Complaints, Accusations Plague Sanitary Board

By JEAN JERNIGAN

A storm of protests is again brewing over the sewer service use charge, with charges of discrimination, inequality and unconstitutionality hurled at the Central Sanitary District's board of directors by irate citizens.

Pleasant Hill joined the act Wednesday when the Chamber of Commerce appointed John Scaglione to represent the chamber at the Sanitary District's Board of Director's meeting last night.

A motion made by Bill Weil, chamber vice president, stated that the chamber is interested in the new sewer service use charge and would like to study the matter to confirm that charges will be basically equitable and non-discriminatory.

TECHNICALLY the sewer service use charge pertains to ordinance number 37, which amended ordinance number 33, rates and charges for sewer system. The amended ordinance establishes rates and charges for commercial users of the sewage system of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

John R. Forde, attorney, in a letter presented to the board of directors last night, stated the ordinance appears to be unconstitutional.

Forde wrote as follows: "It violates the equal protection clause of both state and federal constitutions in that it imposes a usage charge on commercial properties but not on residential properties.

"It violates the State Constitution in that it purports to impose this charge upon religious entities such as churches and the like, which are exempt from taxation and this is mere subterfuge for raising revenue under the guise of calling it a service charge. Accordingly, it violates the exemptions accorded churches under the State Constitution.

"IT PURPORTS to raise revenues through the matter of charges for services, which under the law, are required to be raised under the taxing power of the district."

The letter continued, "It is the intention of this office to file an action in the Superior Court in and for the County of Contra Costa for purposes of determining the constitutionality of the ordinance."

Gerry Hortskotte, engineer-manager of the sanitary district, stated prior to last night's meeting which was held after The Sun went to press, that he felt the ordinance was both fair and equitable. He said, "It is not discriminatory that commercial users be levied a service charge, by virtue of the unusual characteristics in volume and quality some distinction should be made."

HORSTKOTTE added however, that he believed the board would issue a directive exempting churches. The problem pertaining to schools and churches, according to Horstkotte, resulted from lack of classification of commercial property.

He believed that the board would classify commercial properties which would result in a directive from the board to the effect that churches, schools, and other non-taxable organizations would be exempt from the sewer use service charge.

Officers of the Pleasant Hill Chamber in discussing the sewer service tax charge seemed to feel that Pleasant Hill would bear the brunt of the charges levied, while Lafayette and Orinda would remain comparatively untouched.

A report on last October's District Ordinance 34 was to have been made last night at the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District's board of directors meeting, after The Sun had gone to press.

According to Gerry Horstkotte, district engineer, the ordinance will allow permits for garbage collection to be issued on a non-exclusive basis within the district.

The district has condemned property along the Sacramento Northern right of way, the district engineer said. Work along the proposed Olympic Boulevard between Lafayette and Walnut Creek is about 95 per cent complete. The Bay Area Rapid Transit District has contacted the sanitary district, but the outcome was "nebulous," Horstkotte said. The sanitary district will proceed with its plans.

The center strip planned for Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette will go to bid in June, the job will begin in July, and Horstkotte expects that it will be finished by mid-September.

The district has proposed to construct a center planting strip along Mt. Diablo Boulevard in downtown Lafayette, as a part of laying a new sewer trunk line along that route.

Fee System Can Change Without Amendment--DA

District Attorney John Nejedly has ruled that the fee system, which Sheriff Walter Young kept some $13,454 in fees and mileage for 1959, can be altered without the need for amending the county ordinance.

It has been announced that the office of County Administrator J. P. McBrien is studying the fee system, and it plans to make a recommendation either for its retention or elimination.

L. E. Carbert, president of the County Taxpayers Association, said his group approves of the study, and added that the system is "outmoded."

CLERK - RECORDER Walter Paasch, one of eight county officers eligible to keep fees, said, "It used to be the custom especially in small counties to let officers keep fees as payment for services rendered." But he added that in most areas the practice has died.

Of the eight officials eligible to keep the fees collected, only Young has done so, as did his predecessor, Harry Brown.

(The Sun has long campaigned for the abolition of the fee system, with compensation for officials where it seems fair).

County auditor Howard McNamer, another official eligible for fees who does not collect them, said Sheriff Young in 1959 received $4141 from attorneys and others for serving papers, and $9311 for mileage to serve the papers.

YOUNG ALSO has three private cars he uses for process serving, and if he uses a county car, he reimburses the county, 6.26 cents per mile.

Ball Fields Approved By Trustees

The Orinda Union School District board of trustees Monday night authorized a citizens committee to proceed immediately with plans for construction of baseball diamonds on the southern end of the Wagner Ranch property.

The action was taken at a special meeting of the board according to stipulations presented by Charles Hennings, chief civil deputy district attorney.

MEMBERS OF the committee, headed by Dub Little, asked for board consideration of the proposal the previous week. Little reported his committee has received many offers of volunteer labor and materials.

The board stipulated that the committee would form a non-profit corporation for the purpose of constructing the fields for the summer recreation program sponsored by the district, and added other stipulations that would protect the district from liability.

Orinda Fire Marshal William Koch reported to the board, meanwhile, that "there is absolutely no hazard" in four dynamite magazines being located on property adjacent to the baseball fields.

CONTRACTORS ON the East Bay Municipal Utility District's Lafayette Tunnel No. 2 have stored their dynamite 100 feet from the proposed school site, but Koch said the area is well protected and workmen are on the scene 24 hours a day.

Following a length and sometimes heated debate among members of the board and of the audience, trustees defeated a resolution proposed by Trustee Philip Bush to have the district change its present procedure and advertise for bids on all of its insurance coverage.

Bush cast the only affirmative vote for the measure, which would have lumped all of the district's insurance into one large package.

OTHER MEMBERC of the board felt the district, in addition to buying insurance coverage, is also buying a service, which can be better achieved by scattering the insurance.

In other actions, the board:

1—Approved two minor changes in the Wagner Ranch School plans as recommended by the citizens building committee.

2—Approved payment of up to $700 for expenses of Warren Coffee, science consultant who has been selected for a special summer program. (See additional story.)

Trustees Have Right to Determine Fluoridation Question, DA Rules

The Lafayette School District received an opinion from the district attorney's office this week regarding the distribution of fluoridation material by students, but district officials indicated the opinion would not change its stand on the matter.

W. B. Ellis, superintendent of the district, said the opinion points out that state law prohibits the sending of propaganda home with students, but leaves to the discretion of each school district whether to send home material that is not propaganda.

HE EXPLAINED that the opinion, signed by Charles Hemmings, chief civil deputy district attorney, does not determine whether or not the Lafayette Health Council's January issue of "Growing Pains" is propaganda.

In that publication, which was sent home with students, the health council, composed of parents and school and county representatives, listed some pro-fluoridation facts and then endorsed fluoridation. The bulletin created a stir of protest, and the Lafayette school board then prohibited the further sending of the material by the students.

Questioned about the opinion yesterday, Hemmings said the question of whether or not the material should be distributed in this manner rests with the school board and is not prohibited, as such, by any state law.

THE OPINION SAID:

"The question whether this type of literature can be distributed by having public school pupils take it to their homes is answered by Section 8454 of the Education Code, which provides in part:

"(b) No pupils of the public school shall be solicited by teachers or others to subscribe to the funds of, or work for, any organization not directly under the control of the school authorities.

(c) No instruction shall be given through lectures or other means, unless the material collected in the bulletin, circular, or publication, or the purpose of the subscription or instruction has been approved by the State Board of Education, or by the county board of education, or by the governing board of the school district in which the school is situated.

"NO PROHIBITION of this section shall apply to bulletins or circulars concerning the meetings of their organizations issued by any parent-teacher association or by any organization of parents formed for the purpose of cooperating with the school authorities in improving school conditions in the district."

"In view of the above legislative enactment and the action of your governing board in prohibiting the distribution through school children of information concerning fluorides in the water supply, I believe your inquiry is answered."

Ellis sent the inquiry to Hemmings late last week on his own initiative, and no public mention was made of it at that time.

BOARDMAN MOORE, chairman of the school board, said after the opinion was delivered, "I prefer to wait until I see the letter before I make a comment. But I don't think the district attorney's opinion is binding upon the school board.

"I would like an opportunity to confer with the other members of the board, and then I think we would like to take advantage of the opportunity to answer the open letter which appeared in The Sun last week."

Trustee Robert Pedder said, "I don't understand that the health council is formed by parents under the meaning of the State law, and regardless of that, I think the school board has the right to make its own stand."

Anti-Litter Art Contest Winners Are Announced

Civic organizations throughout the community who are participating in Clean Up Month are hopeful the weatherman will be kinder to them tomorrow than he was a week ago.

Rain forced cancellation of the first big community-wide Saturday clean up, but Mrs. Paul Pollaczek, Orinda beautification chairman said the entire clean up program will be concentrated in a three hour effort tomorrow.

The clean up campaign, in cooperation with the county, is sponsored by the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, Orinda Association, beautification committee and The Sun. The county is providing a truck with anti-litter posters to pick up all the litter which is collected.

BEGINNING AT 9:30 a.m. Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops will combine to pick up litter in the Orinda Village and Orinda Crossroads areas, and will meet the county truck about noon.

All Scouts have been urged to wear gloves while picking up litter, Mrs. Pollaczek said.

The Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce is having anti-litter leaflets printed for placement in shopping bags in the community, she stated. The Orinda Lions Club is providing a refreshment truck for the anti-litter workers.

NEXT SATURDAY, March 26, the Balancers of Orinda, sponsored by the Orinda Rotary Club will stain the planter boxes located in the shopping areas. The Orinda Association is providing the stain for the project.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Pollaczek announced the winners of the school anti-litter poster contest.

The 10 blue ribbon award winners are Carol Wagner, Orinda School; Dalen Sheppard, Georgina Smith, Mary Schnugg and Paul Majka, Sleepy Hollow; Jill Winters and Joyce Baker, Inland Valley; Stu Campbell, Del Rey; Ronda Ayers, Glorietta; and Tom Stalton, Pine Grove.

Your Sun Today Is Easier Than Ever on the Eyes

Have you noticed that your Sun is easier to read today?

In an effort to improve your newspaper, The Sun has incorporated more white space between the lines of type.

This makes the already readable Sun columns even easier on the eyes.

Some time ago The Sun adopted 8 point Corona as a news type face. This modern type face is designed for easy readability and is used by the more progressive newspapers throughout the country.

In an additional step toward eye comfort for readers, The Sun has started setting this 8 point type on a 9 point slug.

All that this technical terminology means is that there is more space between each line of type and that you can now absorb all the news through The Sun columns even faster and easier than before.

This follows an improvement started last week when The Sun began setting all picture cutlines in 10 point type insead of 8 point, for your comfort.

These improvements would not have been possible without the continued support and encouragement of the community. The Sun takes pride in serving you, our readers, and will continue to place a better product in your homes.

'Head Bloody, Unbowed', Rotarindan Editor Says

The two-candidate race for the judgeship of the Walnut Creek Municipal Court got under way in true competitive fashion last week as a minor controversy brewed over remarks which appeared in an issue of The Rotarindan, publication of the Orinda Rotary Club.

In last week's copy of the club newsletter, Robison E. Smith, the editor, announced the candidacy of Joseph R. Longacre, a member of the club, who will face Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn in the June election for the Walnut Creek post.

A WALNUT CREEK supporter of Judge Rahn's candidacy obtained a copy of the publication and reproduced it, and public apologies were tendered from Smith to Judge Rahn. Longacre said he knew nothing of the statements until he read them in the newsletter distributed at Wednesday's luncheon meeting.

The announcement said, in part:

"Joe is not really bucking an incumbent in the true sense of the word, because recently the court has been elevated from a lowly JP status to a state court of record. The incumbent was elected last year (actually 1958) to the lower post, for which her status as part-time attorney and part-time housewife made her eminently suitable. Now the legal fraternity wants a top-flight, experienced attorney on the job, and Joe is the man they have picked . . ."

SMITH APOLOGIZED by stating, "I was just kidding, primarily because the paper was not intended for the public. Everybody knows we (Rotarians) are not political and I certainly wouldn't do anything in the world to harm Judge Rahn whom I've never met."

But Smith emphatically denied a report that he considered the publication of his remarks "an error in judgment," and in this week's Rotarindan, he employed William Ernest Henley's poem "Invictus" to illustrate his stand.

The poem notes "Under the bludgeonings of chance My head is bloody but unbowed . . . And yet the menace of the years Finds, and shall find, me unafraid . . . I am the Master of my fate; I am the Captain of my soul."

SMITH TOLD The Sun:

"A rather silly tempest in a teapot was caused when a visitor, for his own obscure purposes, carried away and reproduced a typical, lampooning service club bulletin item which was never intended for the public, but only to induce a club fine from a member for getting his name in the newspapers.

"Everyone knows that Rotary Clubs never sponsor candidates, even when they are prominent members of their own group—especially then. If the item sounds like rabid electioneering when taken out of context, its true intent is apparent when it is understood that it was intended only for personal friends who were going to vote for Longacre anyway."

Matador Concert Well Worth While Despite Weather

By CONNIE PIKE

Those who braved the downpour last Friday night to attend Miramonte music department's Mid-Season Concert found it worth their while.

From the opening band number, "Coat of Arms," ably directed by student Tom Brooks, to the big brassy "Trombones Triumphant" which closed the program, students and directors held the attention of a full house.

Spirited band music included an engaging flute solo by Barbara Bergen in "Tarantella." The simplicity of the Girls' Glee, in their white choir robes, and in their selection of songs, provided a pleasant contrast. Gordon Mallory directed deftly.

The nostalgic and beautiful Chopin "Fantasia Impromptu" was performed by John Calderwood with brilliance. Young Calderwood also displayed a pleasang modesty in taking the demanded bow.

Contemporary folk songs presented by the Capella Choir were delightful.

Intricacy of arrangement was featured in the concluding part of the concert, particularly in the sailing songs. Mario Guarneri perfromed the difficult "Fantasia di Concerto" admirably.

Dr. J. P. Dalby, Gordon Mallory and the entire department are to be congratulated on a fine performance. We only regret we didn't take the whole family. The concert was suitable both in length and depth for children as well as adults.

Pro-Fluoridation Group Has Meet

The Lafayette Citizens' Committee for Fluoridation held its first meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Levatin, 98 Estates Drive.

Mrs. Levatin explained that the meeting was attended by doctors, dentists and other residents of the Lafayette area interested in the fluoridation question. She said the session was held for the purpose of organizing the group.

The group will formulate a campaign for the dissemination of pro-fluoridation information prior to the June 7 election, when East Bay Municipal Utility District water users will determine whether the public water supply should be fluoridated, she said.

Harold Mutnick, local attorney, was named chairman of the committee.

Second Miramonte Career Night Is Very Successful

A SMALL portion of the crowd at Monday night's second annual Miramonte Career Night is shown shortly before the program began. Following a welcoming session in the gym, the evening featured 15 panel discussions on prospective careers for the students. —Sun photos by Mattson.

THREE OF the panelists in the agriculture and forestry section of the Miramonte Career Night were from left to right, Dr. Ralph Hall, a University of California professor who acted as moderator; Arthur L. Seeley, agricultural commissioner, Contra Costa County; and Willis Branch, assistant regional forester for California and Hawaii of the U.S. Forestry Service.

Over 600 People Attend Miramonte's Career Night

Over 600 people attended Miramonte's Career Night Monday to hear 60 experts in the business and professional world discuss 15 different vocational fields.

Career Night was sponsored by the Orinda Rotary Club, and club members acted as moderators for the panels. Attendance was compulsory for seniors, as a part of their American Problems course. Parents and other interested persons were invited to attend.

Robeson E. Smith, past president of Rotary, was general chairman of the event. The 15 panels each held three different sessions of 45 minutes each, giving students and parents an opportunity to attend panels in three vocational fields.

Rotary Club members serving as moderators were Frank Spencer, science and research; Frank Shirley, medicine and dentistry; Everett Howe, engineering; George Dodge, law and law enforcement; Earl Cappel, professional arts; Joseph Duffel, business administration; Merle Brown, sales and marketing, and Robert Partridge, public media arts.

Also Donald Bradley, general careers for boys; Ramsay Underwood, governmental service; Maynard Buehler, education; Ralph Hall, agriculture and forestry; John Ogden, professional careers for girls; James Kral, secretarial and office for girls, and Clarence Betz, general careers for girls.

Warren Coffey Will Join Science Workshop

Warren Coffey, science consultant for the Orinda Union School District, is one of 12 consultants selected for an eight-week training program to be held this summer at the University of Illinois.

The program will be a workshop supported by the U.S. Department of Health Education and Welfare and the University of Illinoise, and will be headed by Dr. J. Richard Suchman.

Dr. Suchman has worked for three years developing methods of teaching "inquiry skills" which he will teach to participants in the course.

THE SCIENCE consultants will introduce the methods to students in their schools next term, devoting 30 weeks of the school year to the program. Coffey expects to teach a class of sixth graders.

Continuous evaluation and revision will be made during the 30 weeks. Dr. Suchman will visit each of the participating schools and maintain close contact with them during the period.

Coffey's selection was announced last week and was approved by the Orinda school trustees Monday night. He said he was "very pleased" to be chosen. "It is an honor personally and to the school," he said.

"The selection committee would have to feel the Orinda school system is suitable for work of this nature. Because our parents have demanded it, our schools are outstanding."

COFFEY has been with the Orinda district three years. Prior to that he was principal Boonville elementary school, and he spent three years as a teacher with the Mt. Diablo school district.

He became interested in science methods nine years ago, before the nation's attention had focused on science. His work with the Elementary Schools Science Association intensified his interest. He has been secretary and president of the association, and served on the board. In Orinda's K-8 schools, he has developed the scope and sequence of the science program.

Coffey was bor nin Oregon but has lived much of his life in California. His wife, Judy, is a native of Alameda where she taught in the high school.

Hith their four children, three girls and a boy, they live at 1189 Walnut Street, Berkeley.

For leisure activities, which are necessarily few, the Coffeys like to camp and fish, and also enjoy photography.

MRS. COFFEY is the family handyman — she likes to do carpentry, and with her husband's help, built their patio. She mixed the concrete and he hauled gravel, she said with a laugh. But she quickly added, "I do sewing and those ladylike things too."

The couple are currently entertaining Dr. and Mrs. Myron Atkin. He is the head of the elementary science education program of the University of Illinois, now on an inspection trip through Bay Area Schools. Dr. Atkin is making a series of talks at the schools and Tuesday night spoke at Pine Grove.

In the Classroom . . .

Sleepy Hollow Busy With Science, Art, a Party

On Thursday Mr. Weber's sixth grade class will be culminating their science unit. The students will give reports and demonstrations on various aspects of physical science which they have been studying. The culmination will be given for the parents of pupils.

Artists par excellence! Leslie Hickcox won the grand prize in the grade range of K-6 in the county Dental Health Poster contest. Leslie is in Mrs. Phillips' third grade.

Mona Overmire did a finger painting in Mrs. Vered's second grade as part of their science unit, which she sent to the San Francisco Chronicle. Mona won a first prize!

MISS RONSFORD'S CLASS made litter bags to be put in their parents' cars as a constant reminder to everyone who rides in the cars not be a litterbug. The bags were cleverly and appropriately decorated.

The fourth grade gave Miss Lund a surprise birthday party Wednesday, complete with homemade cakes, bouquets and cards, and sang Happy Birthday in Spanish.

Orinda: Literature

We have a secret drawer in our classroom. We use it for things we want to show the teacher. Some of the things are very personal and some of them are very cute. We mostly put poems and pictures and sometimes other things. Our teacher looks at it once day and that's how we give things to her.—Martha Pearson, Mrs. Andree's fourth grade.

B-B-Buzz w-w-was a bee/ 9nd a b-b-bee was B-B-Buzz/
He made h-h-honey and sold it for m-m-money/
He lived in a t-t-tree and could s-s-see/
And he loved little old m-m-me. — Kathie Roberts, Mrs. Andree's fourth grade.

I HAD JUST READ a story about leprechauns. I decided to write a poem about. It seemed quite appropriate since St. Patrick's Day was just around the corner. I could put it in the Secret Drawer because I never had put anything in it. Before I had put anything in the drawer it seemed like some silly old idea. But now I think every teacher should have one. —Carolyn Johnson, Mrs. Andree's fourth grade.

"A Leprechaun'
Smart as a monkey/ Frisky as a fawn/
Is the description/ of a leprechaun./
He has a long white beard/ And he's dressed in green./
Catching him is hard/ Because he's very keen./
The place to find him/ Is in the Blarney Wood./
That's where he lives/ Most leprechauns should./
He and all the leprechauns/ have a pot of gold./
So it's nice to have one/ So I've been told.—Carolyn Johnson.

THE PUPILS of Mrs. Given's sixth grade class are condensing their South American reports into one-minute readings, which will be tape recorded for Open House, Thursday, April 28.

The children in Mrs. Hicks' class had a journey into understanding the day Mrs. van Mastrigt came and talked to them about a few of her experiences during the occupation of Holland. Her message was one that we all need, but for the children it opened an entirely new world of ideas. Their thank-you letters showed how deeply they had appreciated the talk, how much closer they felt to the history of their time, and to a new understanding of the need for basic kindness.

Del Rey: Prizewinner

Word has just been received from the County Health Department that first prize for fourth grade entries in the eighth annual Dental Health Poster Contest has been awarded to Robert Salter of Mrs. Spence's class. The collection of prize-winning posters will be on exhibit at the Richmond Art Center from March 28 to April 10, inclusive.

All of the children in kindergarten, first and second grades are becoming horticulturists. Indoor gardens have been planted in each room. Many seeds have been planted against glass so the sprouting and developing may be clearly observed.

In addition the children in Mrs. Sawyer's and Miss Underhill's kindergartens, in Mrs. McCormack's and Mrs. Busselman's first grades, and in Mrs. Andrews' and Mrs. Murray's second grades, have undertaken to grow flowering plants for sale at the Del Rey Parents' Club Carnival. Both green and black thumbs are common these days.

Dateline Pine Grove Library: Upon entering this modern up-to-date library, one will usually see a busy group of students diligently working at fixing "hospitalized" books. These students are the library assistants best qualified for this type of work. While Larry Madin (president) is the best "back surgeon", Chip Gardner is the outstanding letterer; Larry Livingston, Jeff Kingston, Kathy Spinks, John Barker, Tod Nuenschwander, Pat Williams and Melanie Reitzel prove to be well suited in everything from corner fixing to labeling. Through the help of these people many books have been saved from being discarded and although they mend even the oldest titles, all the finished books look as if they were handled by a professional.

MRS. JOHNSON'S seventh grade class took a field trip on March 9 to television station KQED, Channel 9. After having a picnic lunch in Golden Gate Park and exploring the Japanese Teagarden and the De Young Museum, the class proceeded to the television station. There they were given a guided tour of the studio and then watched a live broadcast of Hola Ninos, directed by Dr. Manuel Guerra.

After the show, Mrs. Johnson asked if one or two of the children could appear on television. The whole class was allowed to walk in front of the camera a few times, individually. It was an exciting, frightening experience for all.

"THE RIMOV REVUE"—Mr. Rimov's seventh grade class has made Spanish posters concerning the subject of food and clothing, from which they are learning to speak.

Paul Hackett will bring in a pig's heart with all the attachments for dissection. The class is studying the heart and the circulatory system. Each week six pupils bring in posters showing pictures of the heart and various parts of the body.

On March 7, Mrs. Rossi, district art consultant, started the class on mosaics. They are made of all sorts of seeds glued on wood. Many people are doing fish and turtles, while others make snakes, trees and other designs. Duke Gibbs made a turtle, using every available type of seed. Scott Doten made a hairy green baboon hanging from a branch while Peter Pollaczek made a human face.

Thanks to the original "Mothers' Club," money was set aside and 300 pine trees have been purchased and are being planted on Pine Grove school property.

Glorietta: Incubator

Mrs. Geer's second grade class is making rhythm instruments to be used in a rhythm band.

Julie Anderson and Marianne Moore of Miss Stadt's fifth grade are doing a science project on hatching duck eggs. They have made an incubator out of a large cardboard box with newspaper inside. There is a smaller box inside this large box. A light will keep the eggs warm. There is one problem that they have had: Keeping the light on. The light has already gone out twice. Bob Mansonen and Mike McCarthy are hatching eggs in another incubator they have made. The boys' incubator is made of wood.

Miramonte Parents Will Hear Art Talk

"Exploring the Arts and Humanities Seminar" will be under discussion Monday at the home of Mrs. Epencer Archer, 1 Sally Ann Road, Orinda.

Sponsored by Miramonte Parents' Club, it is part of the school and community service program.

Speakers will be Miss Hazel Bray, education director for the Oakland Art Museum, and John Mac, chairman of the art department at Miramonte.

WISE WORDS

Helen Keller, counselor of the American Foundation for the Blind, is world famous for her gifted pen and for her work for the betterment of blind persons. Her words of wisdom can be felt in her advice that "anyone who out of goodness of his heart, speaks a helpful word, gives a cheering smile, or smooths over the rough places in another's path knows that the delight he feels is so intimate a part of himself that he lives by it."

WHAT'S DOING
Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

Telephone men wearing headsets aren't too unusual a sight in our business. Jack Stephens, Walnut Creek Deskman, for instance, makes final checks on newly installed phones to make sure they're ready to use. Also, from his special test desk he traces out trouble reports so repair men can get right on the job. You may never have occasion to see a deskman at work. But remember he's always ready to track down any sign of trouble on your line and help keep your telephone a service you can count on.

The last place you might expect to find coal is in your telephone. But it's there, all right. In each telephone mouthpiece there are tiny coal granules that change voice waves into waves of electric current. Phone people are very particular about this coal—they get a special, handpicked anthracite from Pennsylvania. First, it's crushed, ground, sifted and sorted. Next, it's washed, rinsed, dried, tested for cleanliness and roasted 24 hours at temperatures up to 2048° F. Then it's cooled, tested again, and stored for six months before it's used. Sound complicated? Yes! But it's just one of the ways we work to make your telephone more dependable — more valuable to you.*

Birthdays, anniversaries, and other special occasions for family and friends seem always to be popping up. Much as we'd like to, we often can't be there in person to deliver best wishes. And that's when a long distance call can mean so much. If you've received a call on a special day from someone far away, you know what I mean. It's an exciting visit for everyone gathered 'round. The cost is low—even lower station-to-station and after 6 p.m. Next time, why not "be there" with a long distance telephone call.

Scouts' Golden Jubilee Expositions Are Coming

The Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council's Golden Jubilee Scouting Expositions will be held April 2 at three area locations.

They are Miramonte High School, Orinda; Las Lomas High, Walnut Creek; and the multi-purpose facility adjoining both the Diablo Vista School and Pleasant Hill Intermediate properties.

G. H. Macey is Council exposition chairman.

A ticket purchased from a Cub Scout, Boy Scout or Explorer will admit the holder to any of the big shows, where they will see Scouting demonstrations over a range of more than a hundred different subjects.

Cub Scouts will be showing their craft work for achievements and electives done during the year; Boy Scouts will choose from the merit badge subjects, ranging from "Archery" and "Architecture" to "World Brotherhood" and "Zoology."

Explorers will exhibit from the merit badge group, or from a specialty of their choice.

Tickets cost 50 cents, and half of that amount goes to the local unit to which the Cub, Scout, or Explorer belongs.

Capwell's Will Hold Six Week Forum On Beauty, Fashion

Beginning Tuesday, Capwell's-Walnut Creek will begin an exciting and informative six-week "Fashion and Beauty Forum" for adult women under the direction of the local store's fashion coordinator, Mrs. Pat Fink.

This series will be on successive Tuesdays, with the last class being held on April 26.

The subjects include information and instruction on diet, poise, posture, walking, basic concepts of beauty and skin care, advanced make-up pointers, personalized tips on hair styling, elementary data on figure control and the importance of foundation garments in fashion correctness, summary of today's fashion and accessory trends, and informal modeling instruction.

Mrs. Fink will be assisted by departmental experts in presenting the various phases covered in the course.

There will be a token $3 fee for the forum, and enrollments will be taken in the Personnel Department on the second floor. Due to space limitations and in order to afford maximum benefit to individuals in the class, enrollment is to be limited to 50.

Krueger Tells Candidacy for Assembly Seat

George H. Krueger, 38-year-old Concord city councilman and Contra Costa County civic leader, filed his declaration of candidacy this morning for the State legislature from the 10th Assembly District.

With the abolition of the open primary in 1958, Krueger said he would seek the Republican nomination for the legislative post in the June primary and then take his campaign to the entire electorate to win the seat in the November general election.

IN THE BRIEF statement permitted on his official declaration of candidacy, Krueger said:

"The requirements of our exploding population must be safeguarded by greater fiscal responsibility in state government.

"I have worked for 10 years to balance service with sound economy locally as mayor and city councilman of Concord and will strive similarly to insure state government serves us better and more economically."

KRUEGER HAS been a member of the Concord City Council since April, 1950, serving in 1954-56 as vice-mayor and in 1956-58 as mayor, during the crucial period of the city's growth from less than 7000 to 35,000 population.

In his second term now as a director of the League of California Cities, he headed the East Bay Division of the league in 1958 and has also served as vice-chairman of the Contra Costa County Mayors' Conference.

A partner in Krueger & Company, insurance brokers, he is married to the former Marjorie Chadbourne, whom he met while she was teaching in Concord. They have three children: Gary, 10; Carol, 8, and Bill, 4.

KRUEGER GRADUATED from Mt. Diablo High School in Concord and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of California in Berkeley in 1948 following four years' service in the United States Navy.

The 10th Assembly District includes the communities of Kensington, Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville, Alamo, San Ramon, Pleasant Hill, Martinez, Vine Hill, Port Costa, Crockett, Pacheco, Concord, Clayton, Pittsburg, Antioch, Brentwood, Oakley, Byron, Bethel Island, Port Chicago, Clyde and Nichols.

Make State Text Printing Law--Solon

Governor Edmund Brown has been asked to call a special session of the Legislature to cancel a State Board of Education ruling against the state printing of certain textbooks.

The board recently voted to purchase more than 5,500,000 books directly from three eastern publishers who have in the past refused to lease plates.

Board members said the purpose was to secure "clearly superior textbooks."

Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg (D., Sacramento) asked Brown to allow introduction of a constitutional amendment that would require all state textbooks to be printed in the state printing plant in Sacramento.

Z'Berg cited a possible laying off of about 400 persons at the state printing plant within a few years.

He said the change in system may cost $3 millions more than the proposed 1960-61 state budget for books, bringing it up to more than $10 millions.

The state policy since 1931 has been to print all basic books used in California on plates leased by the state from publishers.

Z'Berg said the new ruling is "... an opening wedge which selfish interests outside the state will use."

Lafayette Firm Will Develop Swim Clubs

The formation of Aqua Orinda Incorporated, as developers of community swimming clubs, was announced recently by Donald L. Doughty, president of Orinda Pools inc., Lafayette. This company is the first of its type in northern California. Aqua Orinda was formed to satisfy the need for a firm specializing in the development of community swim clubs in the greater northern California area.

Aqua Orinda will assume the promotion, design and development aspects of the community pool program which Orinda Pools has been carrying out for the last three years. Aqua Orinda has programs for community associations desiring help in the development of a community pool, for builders seeking to provide community pool facilities for their prospective home buyers, and as developers in a home area where no current community pool interest is evident.

These programs include setting up the operating association, membership sales, membersnip and construction financing, site planning and design, handling zoning problems, and, if desired, construction of the complete facility on a turn key basis. Aqua Orinda will also be active in the formation of a community pool operators association and in promoting activities related to community pools, such as the Red Cross "Swim to Live" program.

Alvin L. Clark, Lt. Cdr., USN, Ret., who makes his home in Walnut Creek, has been named president and general manager of the new firm. Business offices of the new company will be maintained at 3473 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

Mason-McDuffie Opening New Sales Office

Land Still Selling, Even If It Is in 50 Acre Lots...

PLEASANT HILL RAW LAND SALE . . . the 50 acre Ferreira Ranch recently sold to Manuel Santos of Lafayette. Santos will continue to farm the property with a future eye on subdivision possibilities. This parcel of old country land is situated just a quarter of a mile north of the intersection of Taylor Boulevard and Pleasant Hill Road.

The Ferreira Family has farmed the property for the past 40 years. The property sold for $100,000.—

DANVILLE AGAIN IN THE NEWS . . . "IMPORT HOUSE" is the name of the newest arty merchandising outlet in this blooming city. Our old friends Neil and Liane Puckett had their open house party in celebration of the start of this new Carmel type shop.

INCOME TAX IDEAS . . . the Federal boys . . . the Revenue-er's are much more lenient with the home owner in the tax deduction field than they are with the person that rents. In fact to make deductions for property taxes, interest on loans, as well as damages to their homes and trees, resulting from storm damage, flood, fire or windstorm, earthquake or whatever . . . you must be a home owner . . . If you have such a situation you should use Form 1040 and itemize each and every such factor to gain the most deduction. Contact your tax specialist for all the details . . . I guarantee, it will be well worth your time and effort . . .

CALIFORNIA STATE VETERAN LOANS . . . we want you to know this . . . last week a new problem cropped up with reference to the sale of a home in Pleasant Hill to a person who wished to have the purchase financed by Cal. Vet. Plan . . . Number one . . . almost all lenders, if the house is over 3 to 4 years old, will require a Pest Control . . . Termite . . . inspection of the foundation and the under-the-house area.

This inspection will include checking the ventilation and air space under the house as well as a check on the condition of all of the sub-structure timbers . . . dampness or poor cross ventilation can and does cause "dry rot" . . . a slow decomposition of the wood timbers . . . even a leak in the plumbing or the shower pan can promote dampness and dry rot to a point where the replacement of these wood members is necessary.

IN OUR LATEST REPORT . . . CAL VET . . . required a roof inspection . . . the house is 10 years old . . . had an original composition shingle roof in apparently good condition . . . the inspector, however, recommended some $170 worth of corrective work . . . flashing repair and the replacement of a few broken shingles. To show the result of this problem to you as home owners . . . The shower in this house leaked and the under pan and some timbers were replaced to the tune of $180.— plus the roof repair of $170.— or a total EXTRA expense to someone of $350.— and all as a complete surprise to both the buyer and the seller.

This could become a big BIG BIGGER problem if this cannot be somewhat controlled in the Real Estate Sales contract. Watch this item when you buy or sell.

'Red Shoes' Is Children's Theatre Fare Tomorrow

Once again Contra Costa children will be delighted by fantasy and fairytale when the curtain rises for the third play of the current season, "Red Shoes." Two performances will be given at the Stanley School in Lafayette, one at 10:30 a.m. and the other at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

This play is directed by Rachmael ben Avram. The cast consists of members of the East Bay Children's Theater and volunteers from the community.

Several Contra Costa County residents have parts in this the trouping play of the current series. They are Mesdames David Bullen, Thomas Gaines, Carl Wayland, Rodney Saylor, Louis Ferry, Paul Brown, Robert Van Gelder, Charles Van Duyne and Ellen Chase.

"Red Shoes" is a story from Andersen's Fairy Tales and the play faithfully follows the original story. The play is a story about the orphan, Karen, who has no shoes. She then finds some red shoes, but when she puts them on she becomes a vain and proud child. She cannot take off the shoes and they force her to dance away.

Andersen's gruesome conclusion has been supplanted with a scene of great theatrical beauty and shows Karen's repentance and atonement.

Hounds Help to Locate Runaways

Three young Lafayette boys, aged 11, 11 and 8, made their minds up last week to run away from home—and run away they did, even to the point of leaving explicit notes to their parents.

But, sheriff's deputies reported, the three were found nearly 12 hours later, camping in the vicinity of the Safeway store on Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

The mother of the youngest boy reported the runaways missing about 8 p.m., some 3½ hours after the trio apparently departed for the wide open spaces.

After sheriff's deputies scoured the entire area in a futile search for the boys, Russ Cone's Calo bloodhounds were alerted in Los Gatos and arrived in Lafayette a short time later.

Dramateurs Name Two More Times For Inge Play

Because of sold-out houses for the remaining two weekends of the run of "Picnic," William Inge's award-winning play, as produced by the Dramateurs at the Lafayette Town Hall, there will be two extra additional performances given on the final weekend.

These are on Thursday night, March 24, and on Sunday night, March 27. Tickets for these extra performances are now available to the general public from Wirtabel Harris, CL 4-2460, and from members of the Dramateurs.

AT THE REGULAR monthly meeting, held at the Town Hall on Monday night, members were entertained by the production of two short plays. The first, directed by Les Ruf, had as its cast Bert Miller, Louise Wihera, and Jean Maisel.

The second play was directed by Jean Maisel and its cast was comprised of Rolfe Williams, Phyllis Baxter, Ann Jelley and Les Ruf.

The "Workshop" productions are given, nine or ten of them a year, designed to give opportunity to members to gain experience, to give scope to their talents, to preview plays which may be given consideration for production, and to acquaint the members with drama which is impractical for present production but is worth knowing about.

NEW PLAYS from new and local playwrights are most welcome for consideration.

Starting times for "Picnic," the current production, are 8:30 p.m.

New Show for Opera Company

The Diablo Light Opera Company, which opened its first season with the "Pirates of Penzance" in January, is now readying its second offering for the season. Gilbert and Sullivan's "Gondoliers" is scheduled to be presented on June 10 and 11 in Walnut Creek.

This comic light opera has a double portion of all the gimmicks: two mixed identities, two funny patter-song-singing old men, and a double chorus of men and women. This offering is in keeping with the growth of the company membership which has doubled since the first meeting in August 1959.

Under the direction of Jim Schwartz and Virginia Blair, the Diablo Light Opera Company is on its way to establishing a permanent light opera company for Central Contra Costa County.

Patrick Day On Annapolis List Again

Midshipman Patrick A. Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tillman F. Day of 154 Hall Lane, Walnut Creek, has been named to the superintendent's list at the U. S. Naval Academy for the first half of the second term of the 1959-60 academic year.

He was also on the list for the previous term.

To achieve the list a midshipman must attain an outstanding academic average as well as demonstrate proficiency in physical education.

Essay Contest Data Announced

An essay contest for elementary and high school students in Walnut Creek was announced by Thomas Henze, chairman of the education committee of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce. Competition is the second annual for elementary students, and marks the first of an annual activity for local high school students.

Deadline for entries is Friday, April 8, at 5 p.m., with entries to be submitted in person, or by mail, to the chamber office at 1359 Locust Street.

ENTRIES MUST include the name, age and address of the student, together with the name of the school, grade and teacher. First prize in the elementary competition is $15 with a second prize of $10 and a $5 third prize. Winners will be announced during Public Schools Week, and winners will be presented prizes at a chamber membership meeting on April 28.

Students of Las Lomas and Del Valle high schools are invited to compete with a 300 to 500 word essay on "The Role of My Community in Education." Deadline for entries is also Friday, April 8, at 5 p.m., with entries due at the chamber of commerce office, and to include name, address, age, grade and school.

Prizes for the high school contest will be $25 first prize, $15 second award, and a $10 third prize. Winners will also be presented at the April 28 chamber membership meeting.

Firemen in Controversy

The County Fire Commissioners Association strongly disapproves of the Board of Supervisors recent action, which the Association believes amounts to, "giving in" to the demands of the "Federated Firefighters."

The issue is standardization of working conditions, benefits and compensation among seven county-controlled fire districts, including Central, Mt. Diablo and Orinda Fire Protections Districts.

A series of meetings has already been held involving a board - appointed committee and the firefighters' representative, Ed Erwin, of the Employees Association. Erwin spoke for the Federated Firefighters.

Much debate took place. Two opposing reports and also a "comparison" report were prepared.

LAST WEEK. the supervisors approved nine items concerning such things as hours of employment, sick leave, retirement, uniforms, equipment, holidays, vacation and insurance. (See separate story.)

Still in the hopper is consideration of "salary" and "Recall" (payment to firemen who are "on call" at their homes and who actually respond to a call from the station.)

They will be debated by the supervisors next Tuesday in the Hall of Records Building, Martinez.

The County Fire Commissioners Association met Monday night and drafted two resolutions. One denied all responsibility for the supervisors' approval of firemen's requests, and the other recommends against any increase in wages, due to the previous concessions. (Separate story.)

A HOT SESSION is expected in the supervisors' chambers Tuesday — even warmer than the previous jam-packed meetings.

Right now, a number of anxious conferences are being held.

Board - appointed committeemen are County-Auditor-Controller Howard McNamer, Personnel Director F. E. Emery and County Administrator Joseph McBrien.

Erwin has said the proposals he offered have the backing of the firemen, but he has not named the actual author.

THE SUPERVISORS, on a motion by Joseph Silva of Brentwood, seconded by James Kenney of Richmond, voted for the series of "fringe benefit" provisions. (See separate story.)

They will apply to the Central, Mt. Diablo, Orinda, San Pablo, Eastern, El Sobrante and Mt. View Fire Districts.

Not involved are the Lafayette, Danville and Rodeo Fire Districts, which are independent of the county apparatus.

The board-appointed committee's original report referred the supervisors' decision to "discard" the Kroeger report of 1957, which set the original guidelines for standardization of procedures among the fire districts, but which is now considered outdated.

THE SAME COMMITTEE had also favored using the personnel program of the Central Fire District, since its administration under the Civil Service Commission has "stood the test."

The supervisors were given the "comparison" report before their decisions last week.

It said in part, ". . . we feel it necessary to comment that on the overall basis the major difference between the plans is that your (the supervisors') committee has attempted to tie in the fire service compensation procedures with the other 2400 county employees for the purposes of equity and consistent administrative procedures.

" . . . By contract the new proposal (of the firemen) seeks to set up a plan which is tailor-made to the fire service, and contains many benefits significantly greater than those enjoyed by the county employees."

THE REPORT commented at length about all of the items at issue, including "salary" and "recall," which are reprinted as follows:

"Salary: Your (the supervisors') committee recommended certain salary relationships based upon the duties and responsibilities of the various assignments in the fire districts.

"It was clearly pointed out that these recommendations were for the purpose of establishing equitable relationships of one job to another.

"The actual salaries to be allocated to each class should be deferred until the upcoming total county salary review is completed, to be effective July 1, 1960.

" . . . IN CONTRAST, the new proposal recommends substantial salary increases over what is now being paid in the highest salaried districts and also recommends that, if an across-the-board increase is granted to county employees, July 1, this same increase will be applied to the fire service.

"Your committee recommended the grouping of the districts by size and department in terms of paid staff and assessed valuation.

"This had the effect of placing Mt. Diablo and Central in one group, San Pablo and Orinda in a second group, and Eastern, Mt. View and El Sobrante in the third group.

"Pay for the chief, assistant chief and fire marshal would differ among the three groups since their management responsibilities are clearly greater or lesser depending upon size and assessed valuation of each district.

"In contrast, the new proposal would combine for salary purposes a district of nine paid men and 15½ million dollars assessed valuation with a district of 56 paid men and 73 million dollars assessed valuation.

" . . . IF THIS PROCEDURE is adopted it will result in a substantial increase in salary costs immediately . . . "

The committee's comparison report on the subject of "recall:"

"Your committee carefully studied the advantages and disadvantages of compensating firemen for being recalled to duty either from standby or time off.

"It was their conclusion that any such recall is a condition of employment in the fire service.

THE NEW PROPOSAL (of the firemen) asks that there be no established recall list. Your committee feels that this would be a very dangerous precedent to establish and therefore did not recommend this.

"The new proposal (of the firemen) asks for compensation for recall from the time he is contacted until released at the rate of one active shift off or paid for each 12 hours accumulated."

Concerning the supervisors' decision to allow sick leave accumulated at 24 hours per month, or 288 hours per year, the "comparison" report by the board committee said, " . . . this is almost two times the amount of sick leave earned by (regular) county employees."

The "comparison" report also made a long list of items where committeemen said the firemen's requests exceeded those of regular county employees.

IT INCLUDED a table which indicated that instead of the largest district's chief's salaries being $745 to $905, all chiefs salaries, including Eastern, El Sobrante and Mt. View Districts range from $782 to $950.

Another table indicated that the board committee's recommendations would raise the tax rate about one cent, or with a "one step increase," about two to five cents, depending on the district.

New Fire Procedures Are Listed

Here are the provisions approved by the Board of Supervisors, after hearings on the standardization of procedures among seven board controlled fire districts:

"Hours of Employment: 63-hour work week commencing July 1, 1960, with districts being given one year within which to conform (to July 1, 1961).

"It shall be optional with the districts to operate on a 60-hour work week with the understanding that any districts adopting the 60-hour work week shall report to this board by July 1, 1961, as to the effectiveness of said 60-hour work week.

"SICK LEAVE shall accumulate at the rate of 24 hours per month with no maximum accumulation. Sick leave shall be charged on an hour for hour basis for absence from active shifts.

"Continuing pay shall be as set forth in County Salary Ordinance No. 1285.

"Retirement: The provisions of County Retirement Ordinance No. 3266 shall be made applicable to the said County Fire Protection Districts, including safety membership.

"UNIFORMS: The original set of turn out clothes (helmet, safety visor, turn out coat, turn out pants and boots) shall be furnished by the district.

"Reimbursement at a reasonable depreciated value shall be made for clothing destroyed or damaged beyond repair, due to employment.

"Miscellaneous Equipment: Districts shall furnish and maintain bedding, linen, kitchen equipment, eating and cooking utensils and necessary furniture. Bedding and linen shall be laundered by the district.

"Holidays: General election days; January 1; February 12; February 22; May 30; July 4; first Monday in September; September 9; October 12; November 11; Thanksgiving Day; December 25.

"Each permanent employee who is employed at least one day before each of the major government code holidays identified herein shall receive one-half shifts pay for each holiday occurring during such employment. The compensation received shall be arrived at by formula.

"VACATION: Employees serving in shift positions shall accrue vacation credits at the rate of 16 hours working time for each completed calendar month of service beginning on the date of such employee's appointment to the permanent position.

"Insurance: Insurance covering health and medical plans as set forth in County Salary Ordinance No. 1285 shall apply."

LOVE

Truly inspiring is a quote from Helen Keller's "The Open Door," published by Doubleday and made into a talking book by the American Foundation for the Blind. "I believe that we can live on earth according to the fulfillment of God's will, and that when the will of God is done on earth as it is in heaven, every man will love his fellow men and act toward them as he desires they should act toward him. I believe that the welfare of each is bound up in the welfare of all."

Here Is What Commissioners Say on 'Wages'

"Dissatisfaction" with the County Supervisors' recent decision on several points of negotiation with the "Federated Firefighters" was expressed Monday by the County Fire Commissioners Association, which met in Concord.

Two motions were passed. They were as follows:

"1. The package replacement for the Kroeger Report which was approved by the association, administrator's office and personnel director, was taken to the board of supervisors.

"The board has chosen to overrule all three. In so doing, they have taken upon themselves the responsibility for the cost and administration difficulties which will follow the above order on March 10.

"2. The Association wishes to go on record in the interest of service to the public as being against any additional wage increase at this time, in view of the fringe benefits already granted by the board.

"We recognize the wage survey leaves room for salary discontent in our districts; however, we regret that the cost of fringe benefits have eaten up the money that we would have preferred to have been placed in wages."

Miramonte Mirror...

Sophomore Talent Show Entertains Student Body

By JUNE NOLLER

The Sophomores presented their class assembly today at 2 o'clock for the Miramonte student body. The "Sophomore Presentation" was emceed by Anthony Roegiers and Roger Roos, who also presented commercials between the acts.

Keeping the students in hysterics were Tom Gaffaney and Paul McChesney, who pantomimed to "The Old Payola Roll Blues," a satire on rock 'n roll and payola by Stan Freeburg.

Standing out in the assembly was an ambitious group of five couples, who did a dance routine entitled "A Ball in Four Minutes." The couples included Karen Riegor and Brad Harlan, Mark Jacobs and Phil Hicks, Carol Gilmore and Roger McCosker, Jean Gleason and Ronnie Kay, and Sherry Odenthal and Dwight Thompson.

TEN SOPHOMORE girls presented their own version of "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair." They were Betsy Blossom, Jane White, Nancy Englehard, Kitty Mika, Pam Pearson, Sue Nattress, Mary Baker, Linda Jones, Wendy Wilcox and Sharon Nielson.

Karen Olson and Jill Taylor performed a dramatic skit called "Insanity."

"Sentimental Journey" was sung by a partet of sophomore girls: Linda Van Sickle, Bev Graham, Shari Sage and Sally Bolster.

Mike French did something that was really novel to a Miramonte assembly. His was a skating routine done in roller skates on the auditorium stage.

JOHN CALDERWOOD again proved his musical talents on the piano with his favorite "Gershwin Medley."

Other recent performances at Miramonte have been Shakespearean plays, which were presented by Miss Clapper's English IV students for their classes. The normally serious tragedies such as "Richard III' and "Romeo and Juliet" got opposite reactions when they were performed at Miramonte. For instance, when Lonnie Anderson portrayed the hunch-backed Richard III, her hunched back wouldn't stay hunched. It finally fell off completely during a dramatic scene, turning the play into a comedy.

SUZIE LAHTI, Peggy Schevill and Carol McChesney rewrote "Romeo and Juliet" for their class. They tape-recorded their version and used records to fill in some of the dramatic lines spoken by the characters. In one scene after Romeo said to Juliet—"You send me," Juliet answered with "You smell so good: (What's that after-shave you're wearing? Don't you think it's kind of daring?)"

Also going dramatic is the senior class, whose actors and actresses are busying themselves with senior play rehearsals. This year's production is "Annie Get Your Gun" which they will stage next Friday and Saturday. Sylvia Silva and Jim Botto are taking the leading roles, with Kurt Lundblad, Dale Pilgrim, Skip Nelson, Linda Williams and Joan Robinson in supporting roles.

THE REMAINDER of the cast includes Rita Kingham, Katy Baker, Tom Miles, Bruce Bromley, Sylvia Howes, Sue Tharp, Jeff Neighbor, Squire Fridell, Bob Jones, Diane Traverso and Suellen Thomas.

Eddy of the professional folksinging duo "Joe and Eddy" paid a visit to Miramonte's journalism class on last week. He was interviewed and photographed by the "Mirador" staff for their March 29 issue. Eddy spent the period telling the class how he and Joe got together at Berkeley High, how they were discovered and what they will sing at Miramonte on April 26 in their assembly for the school.

Barb Syverud, who is social secretary of the student body, has arranged for sock hops to be held at Miramonte every Friday during noon hours. The students will be allowed in free to dance to records.

SUELLEN THOMAS, Saundra Thurston and Lynn Solomon, members of Miramonte's drama club, saw the dress rehearsal of the play "Murder in the Cathedral" at San Francisco State on March 10.

Further plans for the senior all night party were made at a meeting on March 9. Milt Howe, Dave Dail, Sue Jensen, Suzie Lahti, Gail Dishong, Jim Botto and Judy Ageno met with members of the Parents Club for the meeting. It was decided that seniors may give checks for $12.50 to Carole McChesney, the senior class treasurer, to cover costs for the party. The deadline for payment was set for April 22. Other plans for food, band, prizes, a caricaturist and professional entertainment were also discussed. The party will be held June 16 from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. at the Athens Club in Oakland.

In the middle of a conversation he looked us straight in the eye & said "Marie, do you like pickles?" . . . We didn't think much of it then, but it's been haunting us ever since. WHY did he look at us & think of pickles? Of course! He's the HEINZ man!

Chatted w/Barbara Graber who has feelings like we do re: the Movies situation . . . ditto Dorothy Dunne who may organize a Motion Picture Council here . . . Hurray! Barbara mentioned her flying lessons, she's still new at the stick & sticks to the air around Buchanan Field . . . Waving from window at Bea Hink's Feminine Fancies was Sharlene Hallenbeck, local model who looked like a mannequin come to life in a nautical outfit of red, white & blue w/a jaunty swabby's hat!

SPENT HALF an hour straightening finances out with Yvonne Block (Oh, it's too long a story to tell) w/whom we swapped skis for our young boys. She wanted our size from Kelly's & we needed the last pair she got from Collier. IS THERE any fault more feminine than two woman trying to figure out a monetary difference & who owes WHO!

Mooseheads & Hats Haunt Us . . .

SOMETHING else haunted us for days — oh, yes, the mammoth MOOSE we had passed so blase-like in front of Spts. Untld. which handles Rwy. Express . . . seems it was waiting pickup by the F. W. Dragers who bagged it in Wyoming. 700 lbs. one of the biggest of all time! Judy Howe & I Jaunted out in the rain to hear Earl Fatha Hines at Miramonte whose Jazz was welcomed appreciateively by a warm audience of kids.

OVER AT ALTHA McManuses early mid-week, Vera Bremer, Virginia Hawkins, Fran Dirickx, Eva Parker & myself, got a preview of the originals to be modeled during Altha's Oriole's tea on the High Fashion World April 7 . . . The dresses by Galanos, Paquin, etc., were timeless creations of fashion, many copied by Madame Foley who served SF society for years on the corner where Nellie Gaffney is today.

April 7 is also the day for the Lombardy Luncheon which will be held in 10 members' homes for the benefit of Children's Hospital.

A GLOOMY RAIN-washed Monday turned into SPRING inside Mike Lynn's restaurant recently when Pandora members of the Children's Home Society hostessed a Lunch & Learn benefit w/John Wheatman, Jackson's decorator, the guest speaker.

DESPITE the drownpour outside, spring bonnets flowering in full bloom, graced the heads of guests who took their hot lunch w/a little astute advice on how to perk up the home via color coordination.

THE TABLES asplash w/vivid camellias collected by Ruth Barchfield who must have divested local gardens completely for the profusion of blooms . . . Ruth has just returned w/her husband John from Mexico & now, lucky gal, is preparing to pack for a 2-mos. European holiday.

AT the door, Grace St. Clair, past prexy sharing greeting duties w/current prexy Louise Greathouse who wore a white-flowered chapeau.

Fashion Bouquet . . . Shirley Crawshaw, a spring sightem in a hyacinth suit, the jacket trimmed in mouton fur dyed in the same heavenly shade & topping it off w/a matching hat . . . Georgeanne Beckett in muted shades of green & petite blonde Virginia McCann in shades of shocking pink from tip to toe.

Following lunch, Bee Hendrickson, pretty in beige & white w/a white spring bonnet, introducing John Wheatman who "did" rooms using chairs, material samples, drapes, etc. He ALL ideas, the ladies ALL ears . . . & hats!

Understandable laughter greeted his recommendation that "Here in Orinda it is a wise woman who uses the mud tones that blend in so beautifully w/the native adobe."

GLIMPSES . . . Lila Axelson & Altha McManus . . . Carolyn Walsh hostessing a group that incl. Dana Cook, Helen Hoffman, Carolee Nelson, Pat Bernard & Kay Anderson . . . Sooo soignee & svelte in black was Midge Lamberth.

Jane Sheehan chatting w/Mike Lynn, most hospitable host who caught kudos from Pandora members for his interest & cooperation in their party. Hazel Smith introducing those at her table, Pauline Booth, Emerald Smith & Ruby Harrington who held a lucky ticket for some salad fixings . . .

BUSY GALS have been the Mills Alumni who held more fund-raisers last week to swell the coffers for the Alumni Fund . . . On Tuesday, Margaret Tharp, Janet Rupley & Janet's mother, Mrs. Houston McCroskey from Spokane were among those for a reading & luncheon at Arline Chapman's . . . Mrs. McCroskey, by the way, has known Mills-ite Jean Henderson since she was but a girl, being an old friend of Jean's mother Mrs. Logan, so it was a special surprise for Jean.

Margaret Gathings renewed old friendships, coming over from Marin . . . Ellie Dodge, Helen Unruh, Helen Stark were more of those in attendance here . . .

WEDNESDAY'S dessert-luncheon was held at the home of Jean Lathrap w/Mesdames DeLos Winkler, Al Pettler, J. Everett, Frank Cook & William Lord among those trumping each other's aces . . .

FRIDAY'S Mills event was held at Connie Goldens. a bridge dessert w/Mesdames Ellsworth Meteer, Armand Guibert, Richard Lieber & Philip Bush sharing cards & conversation.

STILL another member hostessing for Mills was Betsy Kilburn, the perfect country matron, who arrived on the scene mit pitchfork in hand from feeding the horses, just in time to change before the first guest turned up on the threshold . . . The handsome floral arrangements in Betsy's home were arranged by her mother Mrs. Noble whose very famous garden specializes in all shades of blue flowers.

HOME FROM a 3-wk. jaunt to Spain where she visited her dghtr. Julie at the U. of Madrid is Julie Allen . . . She ran into the John Gompertzes in the Rome airport, THEY being now on a globe-girdling tour.

Have Fun After 55!

Why reconcile yourself to restricted activity just because you've reached later years? Others your age and even older are leading active, exciting lives filled with interests and activities. Why, you may ask, are some people younger at seventy than others at fifty-five? Science tells us that one of the most important factors affecting vitality after 55 is the daily choice of food.

Nutritionists now recognize that older people do not need as many calories as required during their earlier years . . . but do need as much, and sometimes even more, of such essential nutrients as vitamins, minerals and proteins. In other words, since your caloric intake is lowered, the calories you do consume must be especially "active" in supplying the nutrition necessary to pep, vitality.

Because milk is the best available source of "active" calories, nutrition experts now recommend it to those who wish to stay active. Scientific studies of the eating habits of older persons have shown that those who included two or three glasses of milk in their daily diet were the most vigorous and experienced the best health.

It's not too late for you to enjoy life. Start drinking milk today for more "active" calories . . . more active living . . . more fun after 55!

Outdoor School Explained

By LARRY GLAZIER

A three-point program for establishing an outdoor education and conservation system within school districts was outlined for the Burton School PTA in Lafayette last week by Frank Isola, recreation director of the Orinda Union School District.

Isola, a resident of Pleasant Hill, has been with the Orinda schools about 10 years. He has been director of the district's Camp Sacto, 'Science and Education Through Outdoor Education," since its inception six years ago.

HE SAID the three steps necessary for any school district desiring to embark upon a program of outdoor education are: Obtaining a site, establishing a curriculum to suit the district's purposes and getting support.

The locating of a site for the summer program is the most important of the steps, Isola indicated, because areas in the high Sierra are difficult to get for extended periods, and the site which is selected must have adequate facilities for the program.

But, he added, the other two points are not to be taken lightly. "They are nearly as important as acquisition of the site, and sometimes arey are more difficult to achieve," the Orinda director pointed out.

A DEDICATED proponent of the outdoor education theory, Isola noted that without a conservation curriculum designed to meet the general and particular needs of each district the program is worthless.

He said, "Because the state's 1958 legislation concerning outdoor education refers to the program as 'Conservation and Natural Science Education Through School Camping,' persons often think of the program as a school district camp.

"I object to the use of the word 'camping' because camping is only an incidental part of the overall program. The main purpose of outdoor education is to teach the students something about the outdoors, conservation and the living things around them."

ISOLA STATED it is essential that the public understands the philosophy of the program and is willing to support it, financially and spiritually.

"We are not in competition with Scouting and, as a matter of fact, one helps the other tremendously."

He showed the Burton parents color movies of last year's Orinda program, the only one in Contra Costa County and one of the oldest in the state.

SINCE BEGINNING in the summer of 1955, the Orinda program has been conducted from the Kaleva Ski Lodge at Echo Summit, about a mile from Echo Lake, on Highway 50. The program is conducted over a six-week period, with groups of students taking part one week at a time.

Isola said a total of 202 sixth grade students from the Orinda schools took part last year, and the out-of-pocket cost to the district was $1957.59. He explained each student pays $18 for the week's stay, and the state pays three hours or average daily attendance cost per day. Total cost of the 1959 program was $6992.14, he said.

For the 1960 program, about 230 students are expected to participate, each one will be asked to pay $16 and the cost to the district will be reduced to about $1700, according to Isola.

IN THE STATE of California, he reported, 173 school districts, 517 schools and 31,270 students take part in some form of outdoor education.

Each year, Isola continued, each group of students is evaluated at the end of their one-week stay, and the program is evaluated at the end of the full summer session. Coeducational classes are conducted from 6:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, and the students are never without the "very close supervision of the councilors."

The Camp Sacto staff averages about 13 adults each year, according to the director. Isola said he selects high seniors and college students interested in becoming teachers for the posts.

THERE ARE three doctors in nearby Tahoe Valley available for use by the Orinda outdoor school whenever necessary, he said, but in the five years of the program the doctors were only needed once—when a girl hurt her ankle.

"All in all," Isola said, "there is nothing like this program. All of the students who have been to Camp Sacto want to come back and their parents also endorse it. It teaches these sixth graders a sense of independence and self-reliance."

Only Lafayette District Does Not Ask for Funds

The Lafayette School District is the only elementary school district in the central county area which did not apply for federal funds to help finance science, mathematics and foreign language projects during 1959-60, according to a report this week from the county schools office.

Harold De Fraga, assistant county superintendent of schools, said the funds are allocated under the National Defense Education Act and are matched with local monies so the total investment is considerably greater than the $146,859 requested throughout the county.

SINCE THE NDEA was passed in 1957, the Lafayette district never has asked for any federal funds for special projects.

W. B. Ellis, Lafayette superintendent of schools, explained this week that "We are pretty well equipped already. To qualify for the federal funds, the project has to be a new thing. There is some disadvantage to being ahead on this type of thing. But you can be sure that if we feel a request is reasonable for us and will be valuable to the district we will ask for some funds."

De Fraga said nearly half of the county's requests were for science projects, and these mainly originated from elementary districts.

LOCAL DISTRICTS requested the following amounts:

Acalanes Union High School — Foreign language, $14,034; mathematics, $1378; science, $4441.

Contra Costa Junior College — Science, $26,952 (six projects).

Danville Union — Science, $2,-890.

MT. DIABLO Unified—Foreign language, $8539; mathematics, $3698 (two projects); science, $2195.

Orinda Union — Science, $3470 (two projects); foreign language, $2994.

San Ramon Valley Union High School — Science, $1408; mathematics, $163; foreign language, $103.

Walnut Creek — Science, $2854; foreign language, $540; combination, $203.

Camellia Bush Has Vanished

"It was a thing of beauty—I can't imagine why anybody would do such a thing!" It was puzzled Mrs. J. B. Jose, 3473 Moraga Boulevard, speaking.

Sometime between Saturday evening and Sunday morning last week Mrs. Jose's beautiful Daikuturra camellia plant disappeared from the front stoop of the Jose home.

The four-foot plant, covered with double pink - and - white variegated blossoms, was apparently lifted complete with tub and hauled away by persons as yet unknown.

Jose heard noises but thought they were made by early morning delivery boys. Her husband, said Mrs. Jose, made a habit of presenting the flowers to passers-by who admired the bush.

The striking plant will be much missed by both the Joses and the passers-by.

Robert Kahn, 36684 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, and Howard Jewel, 67 Camino Don Miguel, Orinda, have been named co-finance chairmen of the bi-county Alameda-Contra Costa Citizens Committee for Dental Health, Inc.

At the same time, James A. Wainwright, vice president of the Oakland Bank of Commerce, was elected president of the group.

Wainwright said the committee was formed for the sole purpose of informing the public of the tremendous benefits in fluoridation of the East Bay Municipal Utility District water supply to decrease dental decay in our children by 65 per cent.

Headquarters of the committee are located in the Ethel Moore Memorial Building, 121 East 11th Street, Oakland.

ORINDA SUN

You May Get This, Even If You Don't Want It...

Are you ready to pick up the old cudgel and start battling?

Sick and tired of having your taxes rise each year?

Well, then, how are you going to feel about an additional tax . . or two or three of them . . . piled on top of your already-high county taxes?

That's not a particularly alluring prospect, is it.

We hate to tell you this, but it can happen. Soon, too.

The Sun carried a news story in the last edition which explained that a committee has been formed by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors to study the levying of a special street tax in unincorporated areas.

THIS CAN BE done. Don't look now, but The Sun has been stating, editorially and in news columns for a long, long time, that this could be done. It will affect every person who lives outside the corporate limits of a city, and it will even have its effect upon the city residents.

This factor as a consideration in the annexation and incorporation discussions which have been held recently in many of our communities. At that time, many people discounted the idea, stating that it was merely "propaganda" issued by the proponents.

Well, that "propaganda" has come home to roost.

Even Supervisor Mel Nielsen battled the idea that such a special tax could be imposed during the incorporation battle in Lafayette. But credit should be given to Nielsen for the fact that he wants to examine other areas of supposed "inequalities" between cities and unincorporated areas also, and that he does not appear to be in favor of such a special district tax.

INCIDENTALLY, although this is only in the study stage, by committee, it points the way to further taxation in other areas.

Not only can the county impose a special district tax for improving the roads in your unincorporated area, it can impose a similar, special district and tax, upon you for many other services which are normally rendered to city residents by their city government.

For example, the county could establish a "police district," give you increased police coverage, and then charge you the cost on your tax bill.

IT SHOULD BE noted that all sales tax monies collected in the county (not within city limits) goes to the county as well as many other subventions. In return, theoretically, the county kicks through with aid-to-cities monies to be used on in-city roads where the traffic is primarily generated on county roads, so the situation is not as unbalanced as it might appear on the surface.

You might just as well prepare to do battle right now, because this can happen before you have a chance to argue. We're not saying it WILL happen tomorrow, but it's getting a good start.

And you know, don't you, who ends up paying the bill?

Naturally, you will see improved streets in your area, and maybe improved police protection, too. But if you want these things, under home rule, you can either incorporate or promptly annex to the nearest city.

You might get them anyway, though . . . whether you want them or not.

It all depends on the committee's recommendations.

Anyone ready to fight?

Gentlemen, We Feel That...

To: Board of Directors, Bay Area Rapid Transit District:
Gentlemen:

This is an open letter to you, to discuss the problems and the prospects of the rapid transit district in Central Contra Costa County.

Obviously rapid transit is of the utmost importance to the area, and everything possible should be, and must be done to insure the passage of the bond issue in November.

Now is the time for talking, ironing out of problems, and establishment of the facts so that there can be no mistaken idea in any minds as to the necessity and advisability of the program which you will place before the voters.

Much of this has already been done, and much remains to be done, still.

PERHAPS, IF SOME of the problem areas are outlined, they can be clarified before the issue comes to a vote, and you can be relatively assured of a pleased electorate.

There will always be problems of routing. This is a complex business, and it is impossible to satisfy 100 per cent of the people.

However, it appears that there are some obviously rough spots in the preliminary plans of the district.

The most obvious trouble area is in the routing of the system between Lafayette and Walnut Creek, particularly in the Sun Valley area. This problem was given considerable airing recently in Lafayette at a public hearing, and you and your people are to be commended for listening to the residents and considering their wishes.

We would heartily recommend that you change the routing, and announce the change as soon as possible, so that it does not go down Olympic Boulevard, but stays as close as possible to the freeway.

SECONDLY, IT WOULD behoove your district, if possible, to have the routing as firmly established as possible before the election. This is the fairest way of dealing with the people who will be voting you the bond monies that you need.

Of course, even if the issue is voted without permanent routing, the county board of supervisors must approve the routing, and public hearings must be held, so the people will still have a check on the system.

Still, fairly permanent establishment of routes would help the district considerably.

THE "WALDEN" AREA station, located on Geary Road adjacent to the Walnut Creek City Limits, would not appear to be serving the majority of people. There are some 27,000 in Pleasant Hill, and this proposed station is, for all practical purposes, in Walnut Creek.

True, this station would serve the needs of many residents, but it would serve the needs of thousands more if it were located closer to the heart of population — somewhere in the Monument area.

And finally, we object firmly to the inclusion, at this time, of Santa Clara County in the district. This county, along with three others, chose originally to be excluded from the district.

To allow Santa Clara County to join the district now would be to provide that area with what is essentially a "free ride," because these people have not contributed to the original tax-rate payments, as we have, and because they would not be included in the bond issue as it is now envisioned.

FURTHERMORE, as the boundaries are now established, and routing is being clarified, it would seem logical to get this part of the program "over the hump" before expanding into relatively unexplored territory.

It is quite possible—even likely—that the district will eventually be expanded to take in considerable additional territory, but it would now appear much better to do "first things first" and get the basic district off the ground and functioning.

Sincerely,
THE SUN

It Pays to Advertise...

By BOB RAPIDA

On the advice of The Sun's editor and publisher, I took a few minutes out and read a pamphlet concerning advertising.

The booklet, "Should You Go Into Advertising," by Paul B. West, is being distributed as a public service by The Sun and it points out the many "Wonderful, Glamorous" phases of the many advertising media.

MR. WEST, president of the association of National Advertisers, Inc., points out that advertising is a great field, but a serious and sober business.

Now, I've been doing a little advertising work since Washington's Birthday (therefore I can not tell a lie) and I'm just having a ball.

Probably not one word about advertising has ever appeared on The Sun's editorial page. So we might as well break this long established precedent.

Without having to hide behind false modesty or any other excuse, it may be said that The Sun's advertising staff is a highly competent group of individuals who know the business of selling, art, and the myriad other complexities of the advertising industry from stem to stern.

Wayne Laine, The Sun's advertising manager, is a nine-year veteran in the central county area, and is respected by many within the "profession" as being a "very professional guy."

Bob Moore, the former owner of an advertising agency, is a specialist in advertising layout and can put any "hack artist" to shame with his "attention compellers."

Arlene Danner, The Sun's Girl Friday, matches the men in drive, artistic ability and friendliness.

In the classified department, headed by Lynne Cooper, Iris Teuscher, Dotty Vico, Genene Schemmel, Betsy Matlock and Evelyn Anderson provide the know-how and the charm to make The Sun's want ads "the best in the nation."

Swinging into a new line of work, it gives one a real good feeling to have real pros around to get you out of a jam, and in The Sun's advertising department — classified and display — they are all real pros.

Letters to The Editor

STANDARDS
Dear Editor:

Of course you should say what you think. Investigate, get background, take sides, if in your opinion it seems advisable, give us the whole story.

Most of us today do not have time to look up facts on every local problem. We want to be able to ask "What does The Sun say about it?" and to find an honest answer, to take or to leave, as we choose.

We are proud of your standards. Hold them high. We are proud of The Sun as it is.

MRS. T. L. BROWN

(Editor's Note: This letter is in answer to a question raised in a recent "Under the Sun" column.)

Letters to The Editor

BEAR CREEK ROAD
Dear Editor:

This letter is in protest to the proposed road to be built at, or near, Briones Dam, with an access road in, or near, Miner Road or Sleepy Hollow. My principal objectives are as follows:

1. This road would bring more cars and people into an area which is purely residential.
2. Our country roads are not designed to accommodate a large number of cars.
3. This additional traffic flowing through our residential community would definitely cause hazards which could not be policed.
4. I object to the spending of taxpayers money for the construction of a road which will serve little or no purpose.

One of the main reasons people bought homes in this area was to give our children the freedom of country living and to get away from heavy through traffic with its congestion and accident hazard.

To date, no one has been able to justify the need or expense of such a road, as is proposed.

MARGARET V. MANUEL

FLUORIDATION
Dear Editor:

These organizations are against fluoridation: National Chiropractic Association, Church of Christ, Scientist, Anti-Vivisection Association of the U.S.

These organizations are for fluoridation: American Legion, American Medical Association, U. S. Public Health Service, American Dental Association, A.F.L.-C.I.O., Parent Teacher Association, and many others.

Anyone uncertain about the merits of fluoridation should check with their personal doctor or dentist.

DR. AND MRS.
G. I. NEWHOUSE

TRANQUILITY
Dear Editor:

"Quiet—calm—undisturbed." This is the definition of tranquil.

Believing this, we moved to the country six years ago and decided to locate on Andresen Drive in Lafayette. Our home looks out across a small walnut grove and there are 13 homes on one side of our street.

We certainly were aware of the traffic congestion (as is everyone else moving out into the valley) but the beauty and peace of the country outweighed this problem as afr as we were concerned.

For three years we were happy and content—then it was decided that the walnut grove across the street would be an ideal spot for an elementary school. We accepted this as we know our children must have schools.

We then heard of a plan for Olympic Boulevard to be located in the same area. We were agreeable to the school and Olympic Boulevard, but now we are faced with the rapid transit system. This is too much! We cannot and will not accept this monstrous proposal without protest.

I hope this letter is not misinterpreted as a complaint against progress as it is not intended to be. However, we do have a new freeway bypassing Lafayette and why not put all of the noise, dirt and rush-rush in the same location?

The engineers for the rapid transit system deem this plan too costly but it seems that as long as they are proposing to spend $700 million of the taxpayers' money, why not put a few more million with it and have everyone in Lafayette content?

When I look across our street at the walnut grove I wonder what else can be built on this small piece of flat, level ground besides a school, a boulevard and the rapid transit system.

Mr. Editor, how does one become a member of the Lafayette Planning Commission, or do we have such an organization in Lafayette? If we do, I think they could use a few more ideas.

Now Is the Time for All Good Men, Women to Fight

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

News item: James Wainwright, Oakland banker and civic leader, has been elected president of the Alameda-Contra Costa Citizens Committee for Dental Health, Inc.

"More than 37,000,000 Americans, including residents of San Francisco, are drinking fluoridated water with great results," Wainwright declared. "However, a small group of people opposing fluoridation are putting out misinformation and deliberate falsehoods to prevent its passage on the June 7 ballot."

Comment: Now's the time for all good men (women and children) to come to the aid of their party! The chips are down. Or use any cliche you want!

Will it be defeated?

The fact is fluoridation of East Bay Mud water is on the ballot in June and it is likely to be defeated—unless we all work hard. Fluoridation has been defeated at many elections throughout the nation—because the opponents have waged an amazing scare campaign.

My main point, however, is that now is the time that groups and organizations should stand up and be counted. It may take a bit of courage but it is vitally important. I'm referring particularly to organizations which have gone on record in the past in favor of fluoridation but now hesitate to fight the battle.

For example, a few days ago I was informed that one junior chamber of commerce was not going to campaign actively "because we don't know too much about it." This is a peculiar position because the junior chambers in California have long endorsed fluoridation and actively campaigned for it.

P-TA and Dentists . . .

I've heard that some Parent-Teachers Association officials are reticent to join the battle. Local, state and national P-TA have been in the forefront of this fight for years and we owe them a lot. But now is no time to be reticent.

Ditto the County Dental Society and our dentists. We know their endorsement and moral support is available, but they should join the battle — with work and money. Other groups, boards, organizations and individuals should go on record and campaign.

Incidentally, this campaign will need financing. A two-county finance committee is now working. If you wish to contribute, send your check to the Alameda-Contra Costa Citizens Committee for Dental Health Inc., Ethel Moore Memorial Building, 121 East 11th St., Oakland.

Some fascinating reading . . .

For three minutes, would you like to read some arguments submitted by opponents of fluoridation? Here are some statements from anti-fluoridation pamphlets:

Dr. George W. Heard, D.D.S., Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas, says: "Hereford has been called the 'TOWN WITHOUT A TOOTH ACHE.' This is not true, but the phrase has been used effectively by the people interested in marketing 'Sodium Fluoride,' all over the country.

"Why use a poison, when correct food will maintain our bodies free from diseases and tooth decay. It is hellish and un-American to put poison in city water supplies and force citizens to drink it."

Bernard Ladouceur, LL.B. of Joliette, quoted from his report: "It is clear that the scheme is, at the bottom, nothing else but a financial and dishonest combine, mixed up with political plans of the most sinister nature, originated in socialistic quarters and designed to bring American full-way to Moscow through gradual socialization of every realm of human activities, skillfully presented to the public under a pseudo-scientific camouflage to give it the appealing appearance of a public health measure."

Now hear this . . .

The opponents claim that "fluorides in water tends to:

1. Cause brittleness in the bones
2. Decrease blood clotting
3. Affect the thyroid gland and rate of growth in children
4. Loss of hair and early baldness
5. Lower birth rate
6. Damage the liver and intestinal tract
7. Affect the nervous system
8. Cause anemia."

Dr. Alonzo J. Shadman, M.D. of Boston. "It is the deadliest, most insane, wicked and illegal method of pollution ever devised by man, and many will die or become chronic invalids from drinking this water."

Speech made by Major George Racey Jordan, USAF (ret.) before the Thirtieth Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense, Hotel Statler, Washington, D.C., February 17, 1956:

"What fools we are to swallow this quackery just because it is recommended by various groups, crawling with one worlders and known fronters for communism. Our defense instincts should vibrate enough to really put us on guard."

Mass medication, tyranny, etc.

Dr. Paul Manning, D.D.S., of Springfield, Mass., writes: "Fluoridation is the mass medication of entire populations."

Leo Spira, M.D. "Fluorine is not capable of preventing dental decay, as claimed by the advocates of adding fluorine to the drinking water, but only of delaying its onset."

A. J. McDonald, Lodi Anti-fluoridation chairman: "The U.S. Public Health Service, manned by thousands of Federal Employees, spending millions of taxpayers money on propaganda through state, county and city officials, are trying to force you to drink this poison. Citizens, arise with the spirit of '76. Free our country from all tyranny."

Here are a few other assertions, briefly stated:
Fluorides cause an unsightly staining of the teeth.
Fluoridation is still in the experimental stage.
Fluoridation benefits children only.
Artificial fluoridation may not produce the same results as do natural fluorides.

One could just as well add fluoride to table salt, milk, bread or some other foodstuff.

Why waste fluorides?

It is wasteful to fluoridate all the water when only such a small amount of it is used for drinking purposes.

Fluoridation constitutes a restriction of religious freedom.

Fluoridation constitutes socialized medicine.

Through just one twist of a valve, an enemy could flood the city with poisonous fluorides and kill off the whole population.

Well, what do you think?

Lynwood Will Be Home For Justwed Ralph Berrys

White carnations, stock and stephanotis decorated the Valley Baptist Church in Walnut Creek for the wedding of Jaye Geraldine Turner to Ralph B. Berry on March 5.

Reverend Melvin Pekrul officiated at the ceremony for which the bride wore a white satin gown with chapel train. The decolette neckline was of white seeded pearls. Detailed pearl work extended to the train at back of gown. Her finger tip veil was held in place with a crown of seeded pearls.

Cascading carnations, orchids and stephanotis were used for the bridal bouquet.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's only attendant was the maid of honor, Monica Gregorich. She wore an aqua chiffon sheath with matching accessories and carried cascading pink carnations with matching ribbons.

Dean L. Allen of Lynwood, California was the best man. The ushers were Joe Turner, brother of the bride, and Jeff Ferris of Danville.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. John Berry chose a gown of light blue brocade taffeta. She wore a corsage of American Beauty roses.

A reception was held at the Diablo Country Club immediately following the ceremony.

The pair will honeymoon in Palm Springs and Parker, before continuing to Hollywood which will be their new home.

Her Greatest Pleasure Is Family

Judicious Use of Time Permits Many Activities

By JEAN JERNIGAN

A lady of quiet charm, Mrs. William B. Freeman of Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, carefully plans her time that she may serve the community without infringing the family life she so values.

Mother of five sons, she said, "My husband and family are first in priority, for they are my greatest pleasure." Two of her sons are now married, two in college, and one a senior in high school.

Nine years a member of the Lafayette School Board, Mrs. Freeman chose ways to serve the community that were interesting to the family, as well as to herself. With her family nearing adulthood, she now finds more time to participate in activities of particular interest to herself.

CURRENTLY president of the Lafayette Republican Women's Club, she has been a member of that organization since its inception. Keenly interested in affairs of government she is also the Lafayette area chairman for John Baldwin, the third time she has served in this capacity.

Vice president of the Lafayette Design Project, she remarked, "Actually I haven't done very much, but I am definitely interested in seeing the project work, and I think Lafayette is beginning to look better."

Lafayette citizens, well aware that Mrs. Freeman has spared no effort in working with others on the Design Project, agree.

Sharing her time with others in another way of community service, Mrs. Freeman is also welfare chairman for the Salvation Army in the Lafayette area.

FAMILY FUN for Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and their sons reaches its pinnacle in the summer when they stay at their cabin at Echo Lake.

Swimming, water skiing, rambling the mountains fill the summer days with shared fun. Mr. Freeman must travel on business, and Mrs. Freeman enjoys sharing these trips with him, now that her sons are older. Next month the Freemans will head for Europe on another business trip.

A member of three book clubs, Mrs. Freeman is an ardent reader. Many interests fill her leisure hours, including pencil sketches, gardening, bridge and study groups.

"BY WISELY assessing her time," Mrs. Freeman remarked, "a woman can accomplish a great deal without causing her family to suffer. I had to learn to say no to some things in order to keep a good balance between outside activities and family life."

Emphasis in the past has been placed on family and community activities, but now Mrs. Freeman is looking forward to savoring the pleasure of hobbies while continuing her most cherished community services.

EACH A CHAMP in her right, these four young ladies who compose the Berkeley YMCA's senior women's team are shooting for a national title in the AAU open swim meet to be held at the Las Lomas pool in Walnut Creek May 28 and 29. Girl Swimmers Look Ahead

By ERWIN MATTSON

May 28 and 29 will be red letter days for the swimmers as it will mark the time of the AAU open swim meet to be held at the Las Lomas pool in Walnut Creek.

The entries will be many and not only will it provide individual and team championships but as well it will give a line on future Olympic game prospects.

ONE OF THE groups that will bear a lot of watching as far as local fans are concerned is the Berkeley YMCA which has a number of local swimmers on their roster.

One group that will be going after the title will be a quartet consisting of Suzie Barkley (age 14) of Orinda, Carolyn Schuler (age 17) of Orinda, Donna deVarono (age 12) of Lafayette and Anne Bancroft (age 15) of Berkeley.

They will be shooting for the senior women's title and their prospects are bright in view of their many accomplishments to date.

DONNA deVARONA was a member of the 1959 Berkeley YMCA Senior Women's team when they won the outdoor championship at a time when she just managed to qualify for senior events on an age basis.

In 1959 she set seven national 11- and 12-year-old age group records and won the senior women's 100-meter San Joaquin Valley championship. The Redwood City Invitationals found her taking first place trophies in the 100-yard free style and the 200-yard individual medley and then she wound up 1959 with a second in the 100-meter free style in the Far Western meet.

1960 is not very far along but already she has broke six age group records and was second to National Champion Chris von Saltza in a meet held at the Naval Air Station in February.

NEXT MONTH WILL find her swimming as a member of the Berkeley YMCA, defending championship team in the freestyle relay. The event will be held in Bartsville, Oklahoma.

Suzie Barkley will swim free style events as well as being a member of the relay team. Her times in the past few months have tabbed her as a definite Olympic game prospect and this is attested to by the fact her time in the 100-yard free style has been second only to Chris Von Saltza, who ranks number one.

Carolyn Shuler has hit the headlines with her swimming performance and is a prominent member of the YMCA team. A senior at Miramonte High, she has been swimming for the "Y" for 3½ years and hopes to represent the USA in the 1960 Olympic swimming in the 100-meter butterfly. She broke the world's record in the 200-meter butterfly event in 1959 and the 100-yard national record in a recent meet held at Alameda Naval Air Station.

ANNE BANCROFT lives in Berkeley and was a member of the 1959 Indoor and Outdoor Championship team.

She represented the United States in the Pan American games, being a member of the winning freestyle relay team, taking a second in the 200-meter breast stroke and a third in the 100-meter free style.

Her specialty is the breast stroke where she ranks as one of the best in the U.S.A. In 1959 she was placed third in the event and this year rates as one of the two best, and she also rates well in the 100-yard free style.

In the recent Alameda Naval Air Station meet she stopped the clock for three new American records winning the 100-yard butterfly, the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard breast stroke.

Pleasant Hill Swimmers Win CC Division Title

The Contra Costa Division relays were held at the Pittsburg pool last Friday afternoon and it proved to be a big day for the Pleasant Hill Ram paddlers as they cracked four records while copping first place in the varsity division with 94 points.

Mt. Diablo was the runner-up with 68 points, Antioch placed third with 60, while Clayton Valley and Pittsburg each accounted for 30 points.

PLEASANT HILL'S trio, consisting of Rich Wisshack, Paul Murphy and Marty Brenner, stopped the clocks at 6:44.6 in the 600-yard, free style event for a new record (old time—7:14.3).

Another new time was set by the Rams in the 300-yard back stroke event as the old time of 3:41.6 was broken with a new time of 3:38.1 by Kent Erickson, Jerry Nightingale and Steve Sipes.

The 400-yard medley record went to Pleasant Hill when Erickson, Jack Winter, Northway, Ken Coffey, Bob McDonald, Vos Dias, Dave Kent and Brenner toured the distance in 4:20 (old record—4:22.).

THE ONLY other record performance was by Mt. Diablo High when they lowered their own mark from 3:45.0 to 3:39.1.

The Rams copped seven firsts and Diablo two to dominate firsts in the nine events held.

In the Bee competition top honors went to Antioch with 72 points, while Pleasant Hill with 66, Clayton Valley with 46, Mt. Diablo with 38 and Pittsburg with 32 followed in that order.

Acalanes Nine Downs Westmoor

The Dons proved to be a consistent team at least in their first two outings of the as yet young baseball season.

In their opener on Thursday of last week they downed Mt. Diablo, 2-1, then pulled a repeat performance Tuesday when they trimmed Westmoor High of Daly City by the identical 2-1 score.

The Dons put their first run on the scorebook in the first frame when with two men down first baseman Gary Brekke passed one good for the circuit between left and center.

The Daly City club came back with a run of their own in the second when Gary McHugh led off with a walk and scored after reaching second on a passed ball when Walt Cristman doubled to deep center.

Acalanes scored run number two when John Jones hit a triple with one down and then scored when a ground ball hit to shortstop. Bob Moreles was thrown home too late to get him.

Acalanes collected five hits with third baseman Lou Pejovich hitting two for two for top honors.

Pardee Reservoir Recreation Area Closed for Winter

Lack of public interest and patronage during the winter months has caused the decision to close Pardee Reservation Recreation Area for the balance of the winter, F. H. Eastman, secretary of the East Bay Municipal Utility District announced this week.

The recreation area will reopen on a weekend basis of a Friday, Saturday, Sunday and legal holiday schedule for the period Aprli 1 through October 30, 1960, for the usual boating, fishing and camping.

This new operating schedule was recommended by the Pardee Advisory Committee at a recent meeting, and has been approved by the Department of Fish and Game and Wildlife Conservation Board.

The new schedule is consistent with the attendance records established by the public over the 14-month period the facility has been open, Eastman concluded.

Ram Gymnasts in North State Win; Nettles Big Gun

The Pleasant Hill Rams played host to the northern California gymnastics meet last Saturday and then proceeded to win the title with a grand total of 125.5 points.

Coach Gordon Maddux not only had the winning team but the top all around performer in Scott Nettles who won with 338.5 points.

NETTLES WON the horizontal and parallel bar events while teammate Jim McCain won the free exercise event and came up with a second in trampoline and another in the tumbling.

The Rams also won a triangular track meet held at Pleasant Hill Monday when they scored 62 points to Vallejo High's 55 and Fremont High's 23.

In the Bee meet Vallejo proved to be the power as they amassed 74½ points to Pleasant Hill's 37 and Washington's 28½.

IN THE special C meet event Washington had 39, Vallejo 23, and Pleasant Hill 20.

The Rams picked up important varsity points as they swept the discus which Roger Foulk won at 146 feet, 6 inches.

Other big point getters for the Rams were Don Kunkel and Steve Corbridge who tied for first in the pole value at 11-3, Chuck Bray who won the discus at 50-8 and Bob Kunselman who won the broad jump at 20-6½.

Errors Help Rams Notch 13-1 Victory

The Pleasant Hill Rams combined seven timely hits with nine Amador errors to rack up the visiting Don baseball team 13-1 in a game played Tuesday afternoon.

The Rams scored two runs in the opening frame when Lennis Colwell started it as he singled and stole second. Dave Clark and Don Dameral went down via the strikeout route only to have Fred Lucero and Dave Sheperd load the bags as they in turn drew walks.

IT PAID a two-run dividend when Dennis Wallen's grounder to second was booted, saving Colwell, and seconds later Lucero scouted home safe when Don Lindeau's hit ball was booted at third.

The Rams added two more runs in the second, collected four in the fourth and while each team scored single runs in the fifth the Rams added four insurance runs in the sixth to guarantee the win.

Amador collected two hits in the game which was called in the seventh with two down, due to darkness.

The Rams play host to the Las Lomas Knights this afternoon in a 4 p.m. game and devote next week to a full schedule of practice as no games are on tap.

Don Thinclads Drop Close One To Pittsburg

The Acalanes track team lost a close one in the varsity division last week when Pittsburg edged them, 57-56. The meet was decided on the final event—when the Steel City team won the relay as they trailed up to that point, 56-52.

Acalanes had a two-time winner in Chris Rinne when he won the 100-yard dash at 10.4 and followed up by hitting the finish line in the 220-dash with a timing of 22.8.

OTHER FIRST PLACE winners for the Dons were Dave Darnsife with a 49-9 heave with the twelve-pound shot and John Mox, who heaved the discus 142-10.

Thompson picked up five points for the Dons when he toured the necessary four laps in 4:38.8 in the mile run.

In the Bee meet Acalanes copped but three firsts as they went down, 79⅔-33⅓.

FIRST PLACE winners for the Don littlemen were Charles Roeschen with a 9.7 in the 70-yard high hurdles, Jim Rinne with a 1:31.2 in the 660-yard run and Bob Hernandez with a 39-2 in the 330-yard event.

The Dons' next track meet will be held this afternoon at Encinal High in Alameda.

San Ramon Wins Over Matadors in 3-Way Meet

The San Ramon Wolves played host to Miramonte and Del Valle in a track meet held Monday afternoon.

Final tally sheets showed San Ramon the varsity winner, 71-42, while Del Valle, competing as a Bee only basis, won with 62 points to Miramonte's 46 and San Ramon's 32.

Miramonte had trouble in the varsity field events with the only point getters Bill Cadwell who tied for first in the high jump at 5-7 and Gail Dishong who placed third in the pole vault.

Sheaff Cops Two WCAC Cage Titles

Orinda's Joe Sheaff wound up his collegiate basketball career in high style at the University of Santa Clara, according to final West Coast Athletic Conference statistics released by the league office this week.

Sheaff, the younger son of Orinda Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff and a graduate of Acalanes High School, starred at center for the league champion Bronco five, which finished fourth in the NCAA Far West Regionals at Seattle last weekend.

THE LEAGUE'S year-end statistics revealed that Sheaff led the WCAC in rebounding percentage and retained his 1958-59 title in field goal shooting.

"Little Joe," who stands six feet five inches, hit on 74 baskets out of 145 tries to compile a field goal shooting record of 51 per cent, the highest mark in the league in four years.

Pepperdine's Robert Sims, the league's leading scorer with 220 points, trailed Sheaff in the field goal department.

THE ORINDAN also won the WCAC title in rebounding with a 13.8 percentage in the 12 league games. Another Pepperdine star, Sterling Forbes, was second in this department with a 13.7 percentage.

In addition, Sheaff finished the season in 10th place in the league standings in scoring, with 167 points for a 13.9 average per game.

Just last week Sheaff was named to the all-WCAC second team.

Tom Meschery, St. Mary's cage star, finished in fifth place in scoring with a 14.9 average and in fourth place in rebounding with a 12.0 overage. Meschery missed three league games due to injuries.

Danville Cage Title Decision Due This Week

Winner of the Danville Basketball League was to be determined this week with Diamond Building Materials favored. Only an upset win by Nike Base over Diamond would keep the latter out of taking first place. Diamond had a 6 and 0 record when play started this week.

Diamond defeated Aerojet No. 1 last week, 70-52. The only threat by Aerojet came in the performance of Bill Lloyd, who scored 27 points. With four fouls called on him before the end of the first half he was obliged to sit out a part of the game but came roaring back in the final stages to run his string to 27.

CLOSE GUARDING by Leonard Thompson in the first half held down Lloyd's production. Thompson scored 22 points himself for high point honors for the winners.

Bob Gomez chalked up 18 and Dick Dickson 16 for Diamond.

In the first game last week Shoe Stable walloped Yankee Sport Shop, 65-55. Jim Black dropped in 22 points and Dick Johnson made 21 to lead the scorers for Shoe Stable. Eric Kehlner was high for the losers with 19.

VALLEY PIONEER - NIKE Base contest was postponed. The missilemen were on maneuvers. Aerojet No. 2 drew a bye.

Next week the championship playoffs will be staged. The top four teams will compete, starting on Tuesday.

Here are the week's standings:

Team	W	L
Diamond	6	0
Pioneer	4	1
Yankee	4	2
Shoe Stable	3	2
Aerojet No. 1	2	5
Nike Base	1	4
Aerojet No. 2	0	6

Mat Baseballers Use Big Rally To Beat Cowboys

The Miramonte Matadors used the seventh inning rally last Tuesday afternoon to come from behind and defeat the visiting Livermore Cowboys, 4-3, in a non-league baseball game.

Livermore took a first inning 2-0 lead when catcher Rick Rochin hit a home run with one down and one on.

THE MATS EVENED it up in the top of the second with a pair of runs only to have the Cowboys post a lone run in the third and hang on with a 3-2 advantage until things exploded in the bottom of the fatal seventh.

Bill Hilger led off the seventh with a walk and Bruce Hancock, pinch hitting for pitcher Frank Feldman, found one to his liking and pounded out a single. Mario Albo followed with a sacrifice bunt that advanced the runners to second and third. It proved to be the ball game when first baseman Jack Gilbert followed with a single to score the typing and winning run.

Each club wound up with six hits while Livermore had six errors to two for the Mats.

BATTERIES: LIVERMORE — Goad, Worth, Weimer and Rochin. Miramonte — Tonascia, Feldman (6) and Hilger.

The Matadors were scheduled to play Antioch High at Antioch yesterday and return to the home field for another non-league game next Tuesday when they play host to Liberty of Brentwood.

Las Lomas Nine Has Busy Week

The Las Lomas Knights traveled to Richmond last Tuesday and they made their trip worth while as they chalked up an 11-3 win while outhitting the home club, 11-5. Statistics found the Knights with three errors to De Anza's six.

Neither club scored in the opening frame but things changed quickly when the Knights opened the second inning with a five-run barrage, coming on four singles, a double and a walk.

GETTING the one-base blows were Eric Nankivel, Bob Morris, Jimmy Murphy and Dick Cronch while Harold Stephenson banged out a double and Bruce Lewis drew a base on balls.

The Knights were ahead to stay as they scored run number six in the third frame and added three in the fourth and two in the fifth.

DeAnza runs were limited to single tallies in the fourth, fifth and seventh innings.

FOUR KNIGHT hitters wound up with 2 for 3 at the bat as Morris, Murphy and Nankivel each had a pair of singles while Stephenson had a double and a single.

Batteries: Las Lomas: Remy, Just (5) and Stephenson, Clark (6). De Anza: Walker, Banducci (4) and Melton.

The Knights have a busy week ahead of them as they play at Pleasant Hill this afternoon, host Vallejo in a makeup of a rained out game last Monday, travel to Mt. Diablo on Tuesday, open the league play with San Ramon at Walnut Creek on Thursday and wind up with Livermore there on Friday.

Strain-Toll 1-Hitter Gives Devils 1st Loss

The Acalanes varsity baseball team opened their season last week with a 2-1 win over the highly-rated Mt. Diablo Red Devils.

The game, played at the Acalanes field, found the Dons getting good early season pitching as Tom Strain and Denny Toll threw a one-hitter between them allowing a lone run as their teammates garnered five huts good for two runs and the win.

IT MARKED the first loss for Diablo who was on an 18-game win streak extending from last season.

The Dons scored a run in the first when Don Nelson singled after Bob Gillham had walked. Jim Holden whiffed to make it one down. The bases were loaded when Lon Cosso singled and two were down when Sam Laughlin's ground ball forced Gillham at home.

Steve Kosach drew a walk to score Nelson and the frame ended when John Paul Jones hit into a fielder's choice for out number three.

DIABLO TIED it up with a run in the top of the fifth when Hunter drew a base on balls, was sacrificed to second and came home when Dave Bierk booted Tom Keane's grounder to short.

The Acalanes Dons came back to ice the game in the bottom of the inning when Nelson scored again after leading off with a single, and shut Diablo out the rest of the way.

The Dons committed two errors to the visitors' one.

BATTERIES: Acalanes: Toll, Strain (4) and Cosso; Diablo: Midland, Armstrong (4) and Piscovich.

The Dons have no more non-league games before they open with the Miramonte Matadors in the league opener next Thursday at the Orinda diamond in a 4 p.m. game.

George Miller Will Run Again

State Senator George Miller Jr. today announced his candidacy for re-election to the office he now holds.

Senator Miller, a Democrat, has served the county in the state legislature since 1946, when he was elected to the assembly. He won election to the state senate in the primary election of 1948 by the voters of both parties. In the general election of 1956 Miller was the leading vote getter on both tickets. He won re-election by more than 50,000 votes.

Senator Miller is chairman of the powerful joint legislative budget committee and is a member of the important five-man rules committee. He is a senior member of the senate educational committee of the legislature.

Peerce Concert Tomorrow

Jan Peerce, famous tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, will appear in concert tomorrow at 8 p.m., at the Las Lomas High School, under the auspices of the Acalanes Community Concert Association.

The tenor's performance here is one of the operatic, radio and television engagements he will give during the current season.

Peerce made headlines this past summer on a tour of Australia.

DURING THE past year he sang both in Japan and in South Africa, Britain and Sweden. He also recently toured Russia as the first Metropolitan Opera star to appear there since World War II and the first American in history to sing in Moscow's renowned Bolshoi Theater.

Russian audiences jammed auditoriums to hear him in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev, where he sang in concert as well as opera.

Admission to this concert is a membership card in the Acalanes Community Concert Association. It may be purchased at the door the night of the concert. Adult memberships are $7 and student memberships are $3.50.

Pony Rider Will Stop For Cheers

Jim Genau of Concord has been chosen to make the re-run of the historic Pony Express through central Contra Costa and also Alameda counties, beginning in Martinez March 30.

His ride is the highlight of the one hundredth anniversary observance of the famed horseback mail, which carried letters between St. Joseph, Missouri, and California in 10 days.

The event is sponsored by the Contra Costa - Alameda counties Pony Express centennial committee.

ROY S. BLOSS of Alamo, co-chairman, said that the rider will follow a route through Pacheco, Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda and Oakland.

Local receptions for him are planned in each community.

Genau will ride his own bay-colored horse, Tony. Across his saddle will be a replica of the pony expressman's mail-carrying device, the mochila.

And to ward off any origands or marauding redskins along the way, Genau will be toting a six-shooter and a rifle, in emulation of the riders a century ago.

UNLIKE THE expressman's horse of 1860, however, Genau's Tony will be fitted with special shoes to prevent his slipping on the slick pavement.

Genau is a member of the Martinez Horsemen's Association, and has participated with his horse in several skill riding competitions. He was raised on a ranch near North Platte, Nebraska, which was a station on the old Pony Express trail.

The celebration has been sanctioned by the supervisors of both counties. In a formal resolution all citizens are urged to observe the centennial "in remembrance of the historical heritage we now enjoy."

NEW SENSATIONAL— PROVEN WAY TO CHLORINATE YOUR POOL...

AQUAGUARD

AQUAGUARD is the result of an important, NEW scientific discovery that makes it possible to produce an effective trouble-free chlorine tablet, making all other forms old fashioned.

NEW! CHEMICALLY! Leaves no residue! Completely soluble! Contains no lime (calcium) or caustic. Nothing to cloud your water, clog your filter, scale up your heater. No salt. No eye burn. Less chlorine odor.

ABSOLUTELY SAFE! Now there's no more reason why your clothes should be pockmarked or for you to endanger yourself and family with dangerous caustic liquids. No more glass bottles to break or store.

EASY TO USE! No more reason to lug heavy cases of bottles of chlorine around. Just sprinkle a few tablets in your pool and they dissolve completely, transforming your pool into a sparkling thing of beauty.

Carnations Bring Memories . . .

Are you drawn to the spicy fragrance of Carnations? Do old fashioned border pinks or the colorful heads of Sweet Williams touch a nostalgic note in your heart? We have to answer "yes" on both counts, as would any gardener who has really known and grown them in the past.

The long-stemmed Carnations are most familiar to Californians, and well they should be since they thrive under garden conditions here. They are aristocrats of the Pink family and their heady fragrance is to be cherished in the garden or in the home.

MEMBERS of the California Association of Nurserymen will be offering Carnations in coming weeks. Choice named varieties come as well-rooted cuttings in plant bands. Many new and fine carnations are to be found each year as seedlings in nursery flats.

In either case, set them in sunny locations with good drainage. The matter of good drainage is more important than the soil, though alkaline, not acid soil is really preferred.

Young plants should be pinched and staked as they grow. Nip the tops when new plants are about five inches tall to encourage formation of multiple stemmed plants. Chances are your C.A.N. nurseryman has already pinched back cuttings that have reached the required size.

SHOW CARNATIONS are the result of leaving only one terminal bud to each stem and pinching off the side buds that form during growth. Since cutting is the prime use for these aristocrats, nurserymen suggest disbudding at least all but the long stemmed buds. If quantity and not quality is your aim, however, forget disbudding.

Maybe we're old fashioned, but we still cherish an edging of the modest and unassuming border, or cottage pinks. And we can't resist a bouquet of Sweet William for our table centerpiece. Both are spicy, but less so than their carnation cousin. Their charm lies in the delicate arrangement of bloom and the eye-catching shades of color.

10,000 Camellias to Grace Show, Tomorrow, Sunday

Ten thousand camellias on display in every shade of red, pink, white, hundreds of specimen plants, one hundred lovely floral arrangements, numerous camellia garden settings . . . all add up the fifteenth annual show of the Northern California Camellia Society.

It will be held tomorrow from 2 to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Armory on Carmel Drive, Walnut Creek. A crowd of 6000 is expected.

As the highlight of Camellia Week in Contra Costa County, the 200 members of the society will stage the show with leading nurseries. They will show garden lovers how easy it is to grow exotic camellias.

IN THE individual bloom display for competition, over 400 varieties are expected.

Most top awards in this statewide show have been won by Contra Costa growers and a repeat is expected.

President O. L. Davis of Orinda said, "Contra Costa area is real camellia country — climate and soil conditions make these lovely plants excel here."

The show is designed by Robert Graves of Walnut Creek.

SHOW STAGING chairman Arthur Patterson of Concord and his crew have worked weeks on making the settings and themed the show "Taj Camellia," a Far East fantasy land setting of the "Taj Mahal" of India, emphasizing camellias.

Not to be outdone, the arrangement section under supervision of Mrs. Milton Bell of Walnut Creek has scheduled one hundred arrangements by leading professional and amateur artists of northern California to compete in 24 classes.

This exhibit will draw much interest from garden clubs as competitive and nationally accredited judges will work the show.

Ten trophy cups, hundreds of ribbons plus special merit certificates from American Camellia Society will be awarded. Participants do not have to be members to exhibit, but must bring blooms to show by 10 a.m. tomorrow for registration.

The public is invited.

Native Plants Friendly In Homes and Gardens

You don't need a guide book to tell you that the natives are friendly in California. But it takes a knowing gardener to tell you just how nice they can be around the home. Native plants, that is.

In the first place, California's natives come in colors, sizes and shapes to satisfy the most exacting landscaper. Secondly, their culture is so easy that what you don't do for them is more important that what you do.

TAKING the second point first hear this warning from the California Association of Nurserymen. The C.A.N. says the nicest thing you can do for most natives is to neglect them. Being natives, they aren't used to year-round watering and don't like it. Plant them now and water to establish new plants. Then slack off.

There are extremes to which you can go with neglect—or with attention, if you prefer. The eye-catching, yellow-flowered Fremontia, which leads its stiff tree-like form and warm tones to dry hillsides up and down the state is most susceptible to over attention. You can kill it with a minimum of kindness. Ignore it completely and it will thrive.

There are other nice things awaiting you among the California natives. Our colorful Christmas Berry, the lovely Matalija Poppy or maybe some Madrone for its rust-colored trunk and branches. You're missing a bet if you don't bring these into your own garden.

HELPS BLIND

The American Foundation for the Blind, with headquarters in New York City, is a private national, non-profit research, educational and service agency which acts as a clearing-house to the nation's 355,000 blind persons. It aims to create a more realistic attitude toward blindness and to give the professional educator, social worker and rehabilitation counselor tools with which to work.

Nurserymen Give Gift of Beauty...

Plants, Shrubs, People Join to Beautify Center

IT'S A PRETTY SMALL tree now, but wait until it grows! Inspecting one of the hundreds of trees and plants donated to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center by local nurserymen are, left to right, Mrs. Fred Latham, vice-president of the Hummingbird Unit which is helping with the landscaping; Frank Collins, landscape architect who donated plans for landscaping and Walter Weinzheimer, chairman of facilities committee of the board of directors.

Contra Costa Nurserymen and members of the Hummingbird auxiliary unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center have joined forces to launch the landscaping project for the Center building and grounds on Golf Club Road, Pleasant Hill.

Hundreds of trees and shrubs, donated by the Central Division of the California Association of Nurserymen, are being planted by members of the Hummingbird unit and their husbands.

Recently a sprinkler system was installed and lawns planted in front of the buildings. Landscaping is expected to require another year, since additional planting will be done at the rear of the area next year if plans progress satisfactorily, according to Walter Weinzheimer, chairman of the facilities committee of the Center's board of directors.

"WE ARE fortunate indeed and deeply indebted to the Nurserymen's Association who have so generously donated materials and efforts to this project, to the Hummingbird unit for their organization and planting, and to the local business men who donated time and equipment to successfully complete the job," states Weinzheimer.

Heading the nurserymen's group is Bert Bertalero, assisted by Jack Whitbeck and E. L. Wright. The Hummingbird organization committee is headed by Mrs. Robert Spitzack of Walnut Creek, assisted by Mrs. Robert Cook and Mrs. John G. Bradley, also of Walnut Creek.

Cooperating with the project in donating a variety of trees are the following Contra Costa nurseries: Dave's Nursery and Orchard Nursery of Lafayette; Sunset Nursery, Danville; King's Nursery, Moraga; the Moraga Nursery; Don's Nursery, Concord; Pleasant Hill Garden Center, Herman Sandkuhle, and McDonnell's Nursery of Walnut Creek.

SHRUBS AND PLANTS were gifts of Navlet's, Concord and Oakland; Wholesale Nursery, Four-mile Nursery of Lafayette; Bennassini's, Concord; and Sunset Nursery, Danville. Peat moss was donated by Sunshine Peat Company and fertilizer by Concord Garden Supply.

Barrett and Barrett Welding and Septic Works, Concord, donated the use of a backhoe, while Don Judd, Walnut Creek, supplied a posthole digger and Aiman Equipment Rentals, Walnut Creek, volunteered a rotovator.

The project has included planting of 314 plants, 38 trees and a large square footage of ground cover.

"Rehabilitation is accomplished in many ways and certainly the beautifying of the Center through the landscaping donations has given a great morale lift to patients and staff alike. This is truly community cooperation and support in its finest sense," states James Simonds, president of the Center's board.

Ground Covers Can Help Hard-to-Landscape Spots

A ground cover that blooms can be just the thing to brighten your parkway, or to convert that hard-to-landscape patch of ground into a patch of color. Out of bloom it is just what every good ground cover should be — an evergreen blanket. In bloom it offers its bonus of color.

We checked a recent list of ground covers which the California Association of Nurserymen sent our way. On it were a bumper crop of flower-bearing plants that fit our needs.

SOME ARE modest in their bloom habit. Close matting Carpet Bugle falls in this class, as does the "old" strawberry, though the latter's creamy blossoms are accented sharply against the green foliage. We can't argue with modesty, however, since both do a good job of providing both bloom and cover.

The new Lantanas show a good variety of exciting colors, too, all of them a far cry from the limited choice the family offered some years back. A check of these would be worth your while

Geraniums Are Showiest Of Showoffs

Showiest of the many fine showoffs in California gardens are the Geraniums. Can you think of any other family that makes a bigger splash in the sea of color that Californians grow?

Their delicate blooms are marked by the deeper shadings in the throat. And their bloom, while not as long as zonals and Ivy Geraniums, is nontheless long enough for a fine show of color in late spring and early summer.

Glads Are Most Useful of All Garden Bulbs

Gladiolus are, beyond a doubt, the most useful of all garden bulbs. You could have planted them in December. You can still plant them in June. And all for a glorious round of bloom in calendar 1960.

Add that up and you'll find it totals some six months of blooms from glads—provided, of course, that you make successive plantings of bulbs. And that in turn adds up to a lot of color any way you look at it.

SO IF YOU HAVEN'T planted already, it's time to get going with glads. Plant some now and continue setting them out at two or three week intervals right through spring. And don't be shy with them. The California Association of Nurserymen claims glads put on their best show when planted about four inches apart.

Glads come in all the colors of the rainbow and then some, with bi-color shadings of a hundred combinations or more. The two new All-America selections should be first choice on your shopping lists this year.

One of them, Landmark, is a full-blooming, ruffled beauty with rich cream tones. The other is Little Pansy, a small-spiked gladiolus with violet flowers that deepen in their throats to a lovely shade of blue.

IDEALLY, the ground should be prepared in advance by working steer manure to a depth of a foot or more. At planting time, work bone meal into the area directly beneath the bulbs, covering it with a layer of soil to prevent actual contact with the bulbs. If you would thwart the pestiferous little thrips which sometimes attack gladiolus, dust bulbs with insecticide when you plant them.

That's all there is to it. Occasionally spraying when tops have sprouted is further insurance against insect attack, and water is the only other need. Keep glads moist but not soaked unless drainage leaves nothing to be desired.

And one final work about planting. Be sure the bulbs are planted on an even keel. Set them on a slant, they'll grow at a slant, which is definitely not what the doctor ordered for these tall spikes of color.

Watch Roses for Signs of Aphids

These are items for area gardeners to check during this week:

Wise rosarians will be out these days watching new growth in the rose garden. Aphids are the main thing to look for. Shoot them down before they get a foothold.

Feeding camellias is a post-bloom item on your gardener's checklist. Liquid fish and an acid-type fertilizer and iron chelates are all used.

Weed flower beds to conserve moisture and preserve appearance. Feed lawns under trees an extra helping of food to help them overcome competition from the tree roots.

A container planting for the desk makes an unusual and welcome gift. They'll be at their best when weather's best if you plant them now.

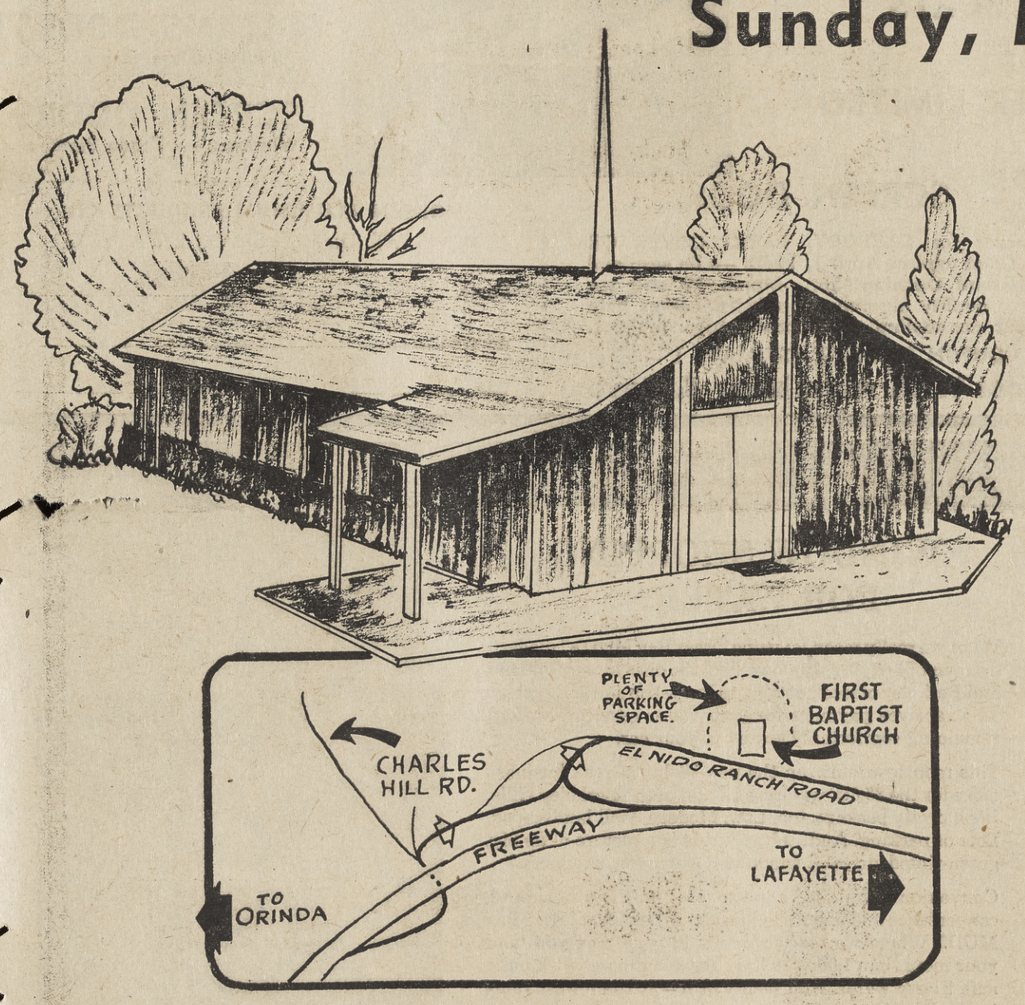
The FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH of Lafayette and Orinda

Announces

DEDICATION SERVICES
Sunday, March 20, 3 p.m.



Two churches were born about three years ago that decided to become one and accomplished this by merging. The First Baptist Church of Lafayette was begun three and a half years ago by Rev. Albert Rutledge who was then a student at a nearby theological training school. Soon thereafter the First Baptist Church of Orinda began under the leadership of Rev. Bruce H. Parker. Both churches functioned successfully and were becoming well established in their respective communities when Mr. Rutledge graduated from his course of training and was called to a new pastorate. It was suggested that a more useful Church could be raised up in the joint area of Orinda and Lafayette by amalgamating forces. One and one half years ago this was unanimously accomplished, by both congregations voting to join forces during the special meeting in May 1958. Since this time the offspring known as the First Baptist Church of Orinda-Lafayette has been enjoying the extended ministry of working together for the Lord in both places as well as welcoming members from as far away as Pleasant Hill.

Construction on the new building started in November and was carried through largely with volunteer labor. During the past period prior to the building of the Church we've been convening in the Veterans Memorial Building, Lafayette.

The Church has as its goal the reaching of men and women with the knowledge of the reality of the Christian experience through believing in Christ as personal saviour as embodied in the Bible: "For God so Loved the World that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have everlasting life" John 3:16. This unit which we are now dedicating is one of an anticipated three which will make up the completed plant of the Church. Plans are even now being discussed for the new permanent Sanctuary of the Church. I would enjoy extending you a cordial invitation to worship with us at any or all of our services. If I can be of any assistance in any spiritual matter feel free to call upon me.

AFS Students Visit AEC Plant At Livermore

Atomic power for peacetime use last week was explained to a local group of high school foreign exchange students.

The 34 students, all members of the American Field Service exchange program, were guests of the P.G. and E. Company last Friday on a tour of the company's Vallecitos atomic power plant in Livermore.

AFTER A description of the plant, including a comprehensive movie covering its history and technical design, the group surveyed the atomic reactor, generator, and control buildings.

They later proceeded by bus to the Castlewood Country Club (W. R. Hearst's old home) for lunch with company officials, who were kept busy answering the students' endless questions.

The excursion, arranged by the Orinda chapter of the American Field Service, was one in a series planned to acquaint the foreign high school students now in the area with various aspects of American life. American students who have recently returned from exchange visits with foreign families were also invited.

STUDENTS on the trip were Widi Saebani, Indonesia, and Enrique Lopez-Bruno, Spain, from Miramonte; Yoko Abe, Japan, and Charles Trippe, England, from Acalanes; Bernard Garnier, France, from Las Lomas; Diana Figueroa, Philippines, from Pleasant Hill; Yaeko Takahashi, Japan, and Reza Neghabat, Iran, from San Ramon; Yildiz Geyer, Turkey, from Richmond; Ulli Boehm, Germany, from De Anza; Vicki Noli, Panama, from Harry Ells; Inkeri Şiirila, Finland, and Jim Craig, New Zealand, from El Cerrito; Birger Hansen, Denmark, from Albany; Maria Oliver, Uruguay, and Imam Brechori, Indonesia, from Berkeley.

And Chrysanthi Heidjicostanti, Greece, from Anna Head; Hanne Kohlert, Denmark, and Peter Weber, Peru, from Oakland; Trudel Kuckelhaus, Germany, from Oakland Tech; Dedda DeAngelis, Italy, and John Farmakidis, Greece, from Piedmont.

American students recently returned from abroad were: Dave Dail and Bob Newman of Miramonte; Kathy Seaton of Pleasant Hill; Harriett Page of San Ramon; George Chumbley of Richmond; Maureen Casey of De Anza; Pete Scalia of Harry Ells; Renee Deyoe of Albany; Marianne Keating of Anna Head; and Lee DuMont and Bill Poulton of Piedmont.

Police Chief Heading Red Cross Group

Walnut Creek Police Chief Leigh Brilliant has been named first aid chairman for the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter, American Red Cross.

His appointment was announced by Mrs. Arthur Hammonds, chapter chairman.

Brilliant heads a volunteer group of 24 Red Cross first aid instructors who teach Red Cross courses throughout Contra Costa County.

Brilliant said he is especially interested in further developing industrial Red Cross first aid courses, particularly in the Pittsburg and Antioch areas.

He emphasized that another prime area for first aid training is in police and fire departments throughout the county.

"Many departments," said Brilliant, "already have excellent programs as part of the departmental training. However, some police and some fire departments do not have current Red Cross training.

"We hope that we can show them the advantages of this type of instruction to their men."

BRILLIANT pointed out that Walnut Creek Police Department is currently in the process of completing standard and advanced first aid.

Persons interested in taking a Red Cross first aid course should contact the Red Cross Chapter at 1395 Civic Drive, Walnut Creek.

TB, Health Group Plans '61 Program

The executive committee of the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association met recently to plan the 1960-61 work program of the Christmas Seal organization.

Dr. C. J. Hart, president, announced plans for increased professional education, two special studies, a fund for needs of the TB patients in Contra Costa County, an increased rehabilitation program in cooperation with the Sheltered Workshop, and an increased amount allocated to medical research.

"Three major projects planned for the professional education program in addition to on-going programs are a workshop for nurses; a physicians, dentists, and schools health workshop; and participation in a demonstration of health education teaching methods and materials sponsored by the Mt. Diablo School District for use in the entire county," he said.

A NEW JOB HAS fallen to Walnut Creek Police Chief Leigh Brilliant, at right. He is first aid chairman for the local Red Cross chapter. Inspecting a kit with him is Officer LeRoy McDonald.

WINDOW SHOPPING FOR WATER...
What we really mean is: using "East Bay MUD's" modern drive-in bill-paying windows (like the ones at our Oakland and Berkeley offices); getting to know the smiling cashier who receives payment for your water service bill; and remaining comfortably seated in your car.
This month we unwrap the new Walnut Creek business office for the 85,000 water-users east of the Berkeley Hills. It's a pretty package, too. Low. Modern. Well landscaped. Lots of parking. And...oh yes: this is a picture of its big, green-tinted, drive-in window. For window shoppers.
Convenient? Well, we hope so. But on the other hand, convenience and service are just by-products at "East Bay MUD." Where we really shine is in supplying you (and your more than 1,000,000 East Bay neighbors) with pure, soft, Sierra water. And plenty of it—at the lowest rates in the Bay Area.
Booklets on water? Glad you asked!

Teeming Sea Life in Film Next Friday

Dr. G. Clifford Carl of Victoria, British Columbia, director of the Provincial Museum of Natural History, will show his colored film, "Secrets of the Sea," an Audubon screen tour, at Diablo Valley College gymnasium next Friday night at 8 o'clock.

The program will be open to the public without charge.

The film explores the coastal waters of the Pacific Northwest from the shores of Vancouver Island to the fog-bound Pribilof Islands of Alaska, recording teeming sea and shore life.

It includes unusual shots of a seal and his harem, baby sea gulls, an Indian harvest of candlefish, and brilliant star fish and other underwater life.

Dr. Carl is an eminent Canadian naturalist and speaker with a background of intensive training in the field of natural history.

High Cost School Building Outlined

Contributory factors in the high cost of school construction were listed by Mrs. Phyllis Wainwright, member of the County Taxpayers Association education committee, and also member of the State Citizens Advisory Commission on Education.

They were outlined as follows:

The Department of Education requires classrooms to be 30 foot wide. Contsruction problems are such that a narrower width would be significantly cheaper.

THERE ARE good, better, and best materials for classroom construction — many schools specify the best, which is not always necessary.

Schools often specify large and non-standard windows, often with expensive glass (tinted and even massive use of one-way glass).

Many schools use non-standard ize doors and glass blocks for decorative walls.

The state department used to require 36 foot of cabinet work per classroom. With the new Chief of the Bureau the requirement is much less, but many school administrators do not know this.

LARGE CUBIC content for aesthetic purposes — high ceilings are difficult to heat. Some use false ceilings for decorative purposes in multi-purpose rooms, where part of the ceiling will be dropped.

Tilt-up construction in small buildings is not economical, but often attractive.

Superior quality hardware is often very unnecessary. For example: door handles may cost from $3 to $15, the same for hinges, locks, window controls, and automatic skylight controls. Skylights should rarely, if ever, be used, because of the adequate artificial lighting which is now used — so why add skylights.

Outside sun louvers, often with automatic controls, are very costly and with the proper placement of the building on the site not necessary.

UNUSUAL DESIGNS are most expensive, as they cause extra mechanical, heating, plumbing and lighting costs.

Lighting is often overdone in quality and design.

Multi-purpose rooms can be very expensive, when they have costly stages and stage equipment, expensive bleachers, high ceilings, fancy kitchen facilities.

Shower and locker rooms are many times too large, with too much ceramic decoration, expensive mechanical installations, etc.

THERE HAS BEEN more and more evidence that in California climate, individual room heaters are more economical than central heating.

Many schools want too much of their area paved or landscaped. Some have too expensive and fancy playground equipment for the best interests of the boys and girls.

Many districts may provide for excessive drainage, caused by their own energetic site plans, which may never be used, she said.

ALL CAN HEAR

The American Foundation for the Blind's survey shows that while only 15 per cent of blind persons read braille with facility, almost all of them can hear talking books.

County School Enrollment Up Five Per Cent

For the second consecutive year, Contra Costa County's school enrollment, now 108,665 in kindergarten through junior college, increased five per cent compared with a state-wide increase of six per cent, said County Superintendent Floyd Marchus.

The numerical gain over 1958-59 was 5134.

Dr. Marchus said that enrollment data from the state department of education also shows Contra Costa County again the eighth largest in enrollment in the state.

The county's rank has declined from fourth as other counties overtake it in population growth.

With special classes for physically and mentally handicapped and classes for adults, the number of individuals enrolled in the county's schools is 122,898.

About one in three adults attending classes is enrolled at one of the junior college campuses. The number is 3695, while 9041 adults are enrolled in classes operated by seven high school or unified districts.

NORTHERN RAINFALL

The North Coastal Area is by far the most prolific water-producing area in California, according to figures released by the State Department of Water Resources. The area has an average yearly runoff of nearly 29 million acre-feet. Rainfall varies from 50 to 110 inches per year, depending on location. This compares with an average of less than five inches per year in the Mojave Desert region of southern California.

A LONG-TIME resident is Mrs. Elsa Niemann of Lafayette, at left, who is the new manager of Joseph Magnin Store, Broadway Shopping Center. She formerly lived in Lafayette 15 years, and recently managed the firm's Modesto store. With Sally Burns, she examines a new garment for display during Broadway's Easter Fashion Show, April 2.

Parking? A Breeze! Here's Why!

Walnut Creek has become a "home away from home" for automobiles—much to the relief of shoppers haunted by the big city parking headache, said Bill Francis, Area Chamber of Commerce manager.

The foresight of city administrators and local merchants combined to create hundreds and hundreds of new parking spaces during the past year. And no one need drive about endlessly waiting for another guy to "vacate," Francis continued.

The parking spaces are there—waiting—just off Main Street in in Broadway Shopping Center dozens of close-to-the-store lots, where large lots are growing larger, in the new city parking lot on Mt. Diablo and North Broadway, and on the new North Broadway street itself.

THE CITY'S Little Master Plan for new streets, the Main Street merchants independently-financed city lot, and the state's nearly completed freeway are all accounting for the happy parking situation.

Wherever you are in the county, you can hop into the car, drive quickly to Walnut Creek, park and be in the store in a matter of minutes.

Walnut Creek became a real 'city" with the completion of its Little Master Plan, which also provided for advanced traffic circulation.

You will have little or no trouble driving from place to place in making purchases. The streets are ample, and will continue to develop with the customer demand, Francis declared.

THE "COMPACTNESS" of Walnut Creek is also enjoyed by many shoppers who have been harassed in other cities by the long distances between preferred stores. And city leaders are doing their best to make this even more favorable.

Famous firms are constructing buildings right in the center of the shopping area!

An actual count shows there are nearly 30 medium-sized parking lots scattered uniformly through downtown Walnut Creek — new ones include the Kal Drug Fair lot on Locust, the American Trust lot on North Main, the city hall annex lot just off North Broadway and the Bank of America lot at the northeast corner, Mt. Diablo and North Main.

CAN YOU imagine 2700 parking spaces? That is the number in the Broadway Shopping Center, alone!

Librarian Lauded by Grand Jury

County librarian Bertha Hellum was lauded for her "dynamic leadership" by the education committee of the Contra Costa County grand jury.

The grand jury's report also proposed that a library master plan, such as the one developed by Mrs. Hellum, be adopted, and that more professional people be hired as the need develops.

The report spoke well of county school library consultant Walter Harris for his work.

THE REPORT said, in part:

"We also commend the personnel in county library headquarters and local branches who are doing an excellent job," the report read, "some of whom are in inadequate quarters indeed."

"One way to meet the increasing demands for books and library space usage would be to dovetail the use of some of these existing facilities and possibly expand the hours of service," the jury added.

THE REPORT specifically recommended that an attempt be made to establish better liaison between the various library jurisdictions in the county.

But the grand jury recognized that school and public libraries serve different types of readers and face varied problems.

The report added that "greater cooperation between county and school librarians could be of mutual benefit."

Patio Shop at Capwell's Open

In conjunction with the 6th anniversary celebration sale of Capwell's-Walnut Creek store, a popular summer department, the Patio Shop, reopened Thursday, March 3. It adjoins the Maple shop on the street floor.

The shop carries a large selection of the increasingly more popular aluminum furniture and redwood furniture, an all-time favorite because of its good looks and durability.

This year, coordinated tablecloths, umbrellas, chaise pads and chair pads are featured. Other special features include budget - priced, basket - weave chairs and versatile reed fencing. This fencing is adaptable for use as a patio enclosure, giving complete privacy. It is also recommended as an effective windbreaker to be used as needed in back-yard areas.

Apprenticeship Graduation Will Be Held May 26

Heightened interest in the county's apprenticeship training program — a joint responsibility of labor, management, schools, and government consultants—was indicated today with a meeting of Contra Costa apprenticeship council officers and the county board of supervisors.

The council, in recognizing the 20th anniversary of the apprenticeship movement in California, invited the board to look over a pictorial diagram of the careers of skills program which originated in Contra Costa and has spread over the west.

The council officers advised the board that May 26 has been set as the date for the annual completion ceremony for apprentices, to be held at Concord Inn.

While individual supervisors expressed interest in current progress, Chairman Mel F. Nielsen added a personal note.

He himself, he said, is a product of the apprenticeship program in California and holds an auto mechanic's certificate of completion.

The 1960 officers of the council include Chairman Earl V. Heller, Painting Contractors Association of Contra Costa; Vice Chairman E. F. Stark, business manager, Electrical Workers, Local 302; Secretary Calvin M. Verrinder, financial secretary-treasurer of Carpenters Local 6642; and Treasurer August J. (Jerry) Seiberlich, Pleasant Hill CPA, and member of the Home Builders Association of Contra Costa.

Big Aircraft Engine Left At College

Diablo Valley College has received a 2600-pound present from California Research Corporation, a subsidiary of Standard Oil Company of California.

The gift—a Pratt and Whitney aircraft engine for classroom use in the college aviation program—arrived by truck.

It was partially uncrated by representatives of the oil company, college officials, and Mrs. Coral Bloom, pilot and instructor of day and evening aviation classes.

According to D. R. Owens of Richmond, new Contra Costa district sales manager for Standard Oil, the engine is one of three to be given west coast colleges for classroom use.

Identical to engines used in large commercial planes, all have seen duty in testing aviation fuels and lubricants.

At Diablo Valley College a wall of a small temporary building will be removed next fall to install the eight-foot tall equipment.

College director Karl O. Drexel said it will be used to demonstrate the performance of internal combustion-type engines for day classes and for the 70 to 75 part-time students in the night aviation program.

Drummond J. McCunn, superintendent of the junior college district, witnessed the uncrating and thanked Owens and W. R Paxton, regional public relations representative.

Earlier, the gift had been officially accepted with thanks by the district governing board.

Consumer Is Topic at Workshop

County teachers will attend a workshop on consumer education —the first of its kind to be held in the county in cooperation with the Joint Council on Economic Education—at Diablo Valley College March 31.

Teachers of social studies, homemaking and business education are being invited, according to Mrs. Mary Louise Nissen of the county superintendent's staff.

The program, "The Consumer in Our Modern Economy," will be jointly planned by the council, the county superintendent's staff and teachers.

Milan Wright, coordinator of work experience education in Mt. Diablo Unified District, is in charge of local arrangements.

Vernon Ouelette of San Francisco State College, executive director of the Northern California Council on Economic Education, is program chairman.

Dr. Gertrude Luehning, head of the home economics department at San San Francisco State, and Dr. Theodore Kreps, professor business economics at Stanford University, will speak.

Philip McCoury, assistant professor of business at the state college, will head a discussion group.

The workshop will open at 4 p.m. with the speeches, followed by discussion in three groups at 5 p.m., dinner at 6:45 p.m., a summary by Dr. Kreps at 7:45 p.m. and adjournment at 8:45 p.m.

Anti-Vandalism Plan Proposed To Developers

A six-point program to combat vandalism and thievery on construction sites in the county has been proposed by Sheriff Walter Young, after a conference February 23.

He talked with public relations committee members of the Home Builders Association and Inspector Norman Wilson about preventative methods.

Bert Dawe of Concord, association president, said "Education seems to be the important factor involved in this problem . . . if the fact were known that parents are liable for acts of vandalism by their minor children, a probable decrease in this type of wanton destruction would soon become apparent."

YOUNG'S proposals:

1. Place warning signs on all new construction sites.
2. Notify the sheriff's department as to the location of all newly started construction.
3. Notify several neighbors in the area that the builder would appreciate the reporting of any unusual activity on the new construction.
4. BUILDERS should make sure all valuable tools are removed from the job each day or placed in a locked tool shed equipped with an alarm system.
5. Obtain serial numbers and identification marks on all major tools and keep a record.
6. Leave a light on in those houses which are finished but unoccupied.

Dawe said, "Many people removing 'scrap' wood from a new home are unaware that they are also removing precut fire blocking and other lumber intended to become part of this home.

"I AM SURE that if they were aware that, in reality, they are actually stealing from their future neighbors that this type of occurrence would never happen.

"It is the intention of this committee to make the public aware of these problems by the dissemination of educational information to PTA and other groups interested in the healthy attitude of our county," he concluded.

NEEDS

If California is to attain its full economic potential, additional water supplies amounting to some 31 million acre-feet per year must ultimately be developed for use, according to the Water Facts Library. The state also must have enough water to provide adequate stream flow for fish, wildlife, and recreation. This challenge calls for carefully-planned development of remaining undeveloped water resources, the Library says.

Shop at Home and Save!

LA BELLE FRANCE is the favorite topic of conversation for members of the new "Alliance Francaise du Mont Diablo" which is drawing French-speaking Americans from this area. A dinner and lecture was held recently, and among those present were, left to right: Mrs. Pierre Achener, local president; Mrs. Marcel Rijmenans, her husband, who is Belgium consul general in San Francisco, Mrs. F. A. Jordan, local vice president, and Madame Arnold Bermingham.

Boys, CYA-Bound, Get New Chances at Center

Five youths, the first contingent of an ultimate 60, now occupy the new Contra Counta County Boys' Rehabilitation Center, on which the county has pinned its hopes for a better future for teen-agers who have been in serious trouble.

The new installation near Byron is a treatment center for boys who could be committed to the California Youth Authority but who it is judged will benefit by remaining closer to their homes and communities and in a less restricted environment.

County probation officer John Davis described the center program as "half work and half school experience and, we hope, 100 per cent rehabilitation."

A FOUR-HOUR per day school will be operated by the Contra Costa County School Department. The studies will consist of one hour each of shop or craft and physical education and two hours of academic work.

"Each boy is also assigned to one of seven work groups—kitchen, building maintenance, garden, landscape, construction of farm," added Davis.

Davis has assigned two probation officers and two counselors to work with the boys, in addition to the superintendent, Cecil Lendrum.

County Superintendent Floyd Marchus has provided two teachers.

A WHO'S WHO of the staff follows:

Superintendent Lendrum, 32, resides with his wife and four children at 4920 Myrtle Drive, Concord. His previous experience consists of seven years as deputy probation officer and one year as unit supervisor.

After graduating from the University of California, Lendrum did graduate work in psychology and social welfare.

Arnold Evans, probation officer, is a Stockton resident and a graduate of College of the Pacific. He has had nine and one-half years of experience with mentally ill patients at the Stockton State Hospital. At 28 he is the father of three children.

AS THE OTHER probation officer, Eliot Callender has three years experience in counseling at Juvenile Hall. Also 28, Callender and his wife and two daughters reside at 19620 Forest Avenue, Castro Valley. He is a graduate of San Jose State College and a veteran of the Korean War.

Graduated with a degree in agriculture from Prairie View A&M Coillege, Texas, Gus T. Poole has been appointed counselor. He is a veteran of World War II and a former resident of Austin, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Poole have two children.

Also a veteran of World War II, Bruce Williams of Concord continues the counselor duties he has had at Juvenile Hall for the past three and one-half years. He has attended the University of Minnesota and the University of California at both Davis and Berkeley and has worked as an accountant.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their three children reside at 2731 Westgate Court.
